REICH TO SEEK ESCAPE FROM LIMIT ON ARMS

Threatens to Abrogate Versailles Treaty if Proposal Fails.

FRANCE AND GERMANY WILL NEGOTIATE SOON

Right to Revise Restriction Based on Absence of Cuts by Powers.

Berlin, Aug. 16 (U.P.).—Threatening to abrogate restrictions of the Versailles Treaty if blocked, Germany is preparing for direct negotiations with France to escape limitations imposed on the Reich's armed forces since the World War.

These negotiations will be inaugurated soon, it was learned today, against a background of nationalistic declarations by German government leaders, including Defense Minister Gen. Kurt Schleicher.

Gen. Schleicher last month announced in a broadcast to the nation that Germany is prepared and determined to remodel her armed forces despite any opposition, because the other powers have failed to reduce their armaments as provided in the Versailles Treaty. The government of Chancellor Franz von Papen is prepared to put these words into practice.

Conversations to Start.

Upon his return from a vacation, French Ambassador Francois Poncet is scheduled to begin the negotiations, which probably will move slowly. The first conversations are expected next week.

In these negotiations the Reich will seek revision of the military provisions of the treaty, particularly in regard to army service. Germany will demand reduction of the present twelve-year army service to six years. The Versailles Treaty imposed on Germany a mercenary army with twelve years inlistment, also limiting the army to keep down the number of trained men in the nation.

Furthermore, Germany will insist on the right to manufacture arms at various plants which also produce other products.

Under the agreement, reached at the ambassadors conference, Germany since the war has been permitted to manufacture arms at 33 designated factories. The quantity has been fixed.

Hitler Attacks Von Papen.

Berlin, Aug. 16 (A.P.).—Scathing attacks were launched today against the government of Chancellor Franz von Papen by Adolf Hitler, leader of the National Socialists, the strongest party in the nation, and by Ernst Thaelmann, chieftain of Germany's 3,500,000 Communists.

Hitler assailed the government as "leading straight to Chaos" and declared that never would he compromise with it.

Thaelmann, warring on the government and on the Hitlerites alike, laid down a program of agitation to culminate in a general strike in all cities.

"We must place the masses of the people in the fight against the government and the National Socialist hunger offense," the Communist leader said in an appeal to his followers.

Hitler's statement was his first public utterance since his interview last Saturday with President Paul von Hindenburg in which he demanded the chancellorship for himself and was denied it, whereupon he refused to take a secondary place in the cabinet.

"My followers would never have understood it if I had accepted the compromise suggested by President von Hindenburg," the Nazi leader said.

"Sonny" Whitney Out for Congress

Heir to Sportsman's Vast Fortune to Run on Democratic Ticket.

Philip N. Krug, chairman of the Nassau County Democratic committee, announced today that Whitney had been designated a candidate from the First Congressional District, embracing the counties of Nassau, Suffolk and part of Queens, on Long Island. It will be his first venture in politics.

Sonny Whitney is the son of the late Harry Payne Whitney, sportsman, and Mrs. Whitney, and is the grandson of the late Cornelius Vanderbilt. When his father died he inherited half of an estate appraised at close to $200,000,000.

781 Excursionists Safe As River Ship Hits Rock

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 16 (A.P.).—Listing badly and with a hole torn in her hull, the excursion steamer City of Memphis was put ashore here tonight and her 748 passengers and crew of 33 men landed safely.

Three persons were injured, none seriously, as the passengers crowded down the gang plank onto the Kentucky shore after a harrowing trip from the middle of the river. An unidentified youth leaped from the steamer and swam 20 feet to shore.

The boat, in the excursion service here during the summer, was returning her passengers to New Albany, Ind., across the river from Louisville, when she struck a rock near a dam. She began taking on water quickly. Order was maintained.

RUSSELL BOARDMAN BADLY HURT IN CRASH

Transatlantic Flier's Plane Plunges in Woods on Short Hop.

Springfield, Mass., Aug. 16 (A.P.).—Russell N. Boardman, who flew with John Polando from New York to Istanbul last year, was injured critically today as his plane crashed into the woods while he was attempting a short hop.

For several hours he was given no better than an even chance to live, but late tonight Dr. Roderick Macaulay said the famous airman had shown marked improvement. Boardman's worst injuries, Dr. Macaulay said, were a contused kidney and a possible fracture of the skull.

"I wouldn't say so a few hours ago, but now I believe he has a good chance to recover," Dr. Macaulay said.

The transatlantic flier set out from the Springfield Airport toward the Bowles-Agawam Airport when his plane faltered and plunged to the ground.

Airport attaches and other witnesses rushed to the woods, found the plane demolished and its famous pilot semiconscious. He was rushed to Springfield Hospital, where his condition was described as "poor."

After an emergency examination, Dr. Carl J. Schillander said the flier had an even chance of recovery on the basis of "present appearances." He said Boardman had suffered a severe concussion of the brain, numerous lacerations, but that no bones were broken. It was too soon to determine, the doctor said, whether the flier had suffered internal injuries.

The cause of the accident was not ascertained several hours after the crash. Even witnesses disagreed on the manner of the crash. The flier, however, had presence of mind to turn off the ignition switch, thus lessening the possibility of fire.

Ohio Legion Criticizes Eviction and Boos Fess

Toledo, Ohio, Aug. 16 (A.P.).—Boos for the second successive day greeted the United States senator addressing the Ohio convention of the American Legion today as the veterans adopted resolutions criticizing treatment of the bonus expeditionary force in Washington and "demanding" immediate payment of the bonus.

The vote on the bonus, forecast yesterday when Senator Robert J. Bulkley was jeered while outlining his position on the question, followed adoption of an amendment changing the phrase "recommending and urging" payment to "demand." Jeers similarly sounded loudly through the applause accorded Senator Simeon D. Fess when he addressed the convention today, although he avoided any mention of the bonus.

Women "Endurancers," Up 56 Hours, Are Tired

Valley Stream, N. Y., Aug. 16 (U.P.). Mrs. Frances Marsalis and Mrs. Louise Thaden, attempting a new women's endurance record in their plane, the Flying Boudoir, were still circling the airport at 10 p. m. today. They had been aloft 56 hours. The record, held by Miss Bobby Trout and Miss Edna May Cooper, is 122 hours.

In a note dropped from the plane today, they complained of being sleepy and tired. But they expressed a determination to be still flying "this time next week."

Paraguayan Attack Reported by Bolivia

La Paz, Bolivia, Aug. 16 (A.P.).—An attack by Paraguayan troops on a Bolivian outpost in the disputed Gran Chaco territory, in which one Bolivian was killed, was announced here today by the chief of staff.

A strong Paraguayan cavalry patrol attacked a Bolivian observation post at Huijay yesterday, killing Second Lieut. Manuel Monroy, the statement said. It added that the patrol was repulsed. News of the reported attack caused expressions of indignation among the people here.

BANK OFFICIALS QUESTIONED ON BALL DEALINGS

Testimony Is Introduced Intended to Show Misuse of Funds.

ATTITUDE OF JUROR DEBATED AT OUTSET

Former Arlington Treasurer Said to Have Drawn on Official Acount.

Prosecution testimony intended to indicate that E. Wade Ball, former Arlington County treasurer, paid personal debts of $36,000 with checks on an account as treasurer was introduced in Arlington County Circuit Court yesterday by Lawrence Douglas, Commonwealth's attorney. Ball is on trial on an indictment charging him with misuse of $24,454 of public money.

The presentation of prosecution testimony was interrupted earlier in the day when Judge Walter T. McCarthy, Douglas and the two defense attorneys, Crandal Mackey and Frank L. Ball, discussed the qualifications of a juror who was said to have stated that he could not believe Ball was guilty.

Juror Is Accepted.

The juror, Charles W. Tarbutton, of Aurora Hills, was alleged to have told Dr. Claude S. Semones, of Aurora Hills, Va., some months ago that he could not believe in Ball's guilt. After the conference between counsel and the Court, it was decided to proceed with the case. Judge McCarthy was said to have asserted that the point was not pertinent enough to necessitate dismissal of the jury.

Douglas decided against moving to dismiss the jury. He said that Tarbutton told the Court that he could give an impartial verdict on the evidence. The remark to Semones he said, was a casual remark of several months ago.

Bank Officials Heard.

Yesterday's testimony came from several officials of banks where Ball had both accounts as treasurer and personal accounts. The last witness heard was Carroll Pierce, president of the Citizens National Bank of Alexandria.

In questioning Pierce, Douglas attempted to show that Ball had paid certain notes from an account as treasurer. The notes were: February 16, 1932, $10,000; December, 4, 1931, $10,000; December 7, 1931, $9,500, and December 5, 1931, $6,500.

To support this evidence he showed checks which bore the signature of E. W. Ball, treasurer of Arlington County. They were made payable to the bank.

Douglas asked Pierce if the checks were given by Ball to pay the bank. Pierce said that he "assumed that

Fog Nearly Traps Wales in Airplane

Brother, Prince George, Is Kept Aloft for Hour Till Clearing.

Corfu, Greece, Aug. 16 (U.P.).—The Prince of Wales narrowly escaped being caught aloft in an airplane during a fog today, and his brother, Prince George, in another plane, could not land for an hour because of the fog.

The British princes went aloft to observe an air "attack" which was a part of the war games of the British Mediterranean fleet. The fog appeared suddenly and the pilot of Wales' machine just managed to land on the aircraft carrier H. M. S. Glorious before the ship was blotted out.

Prince George was not so fortunate. Fog had enveloped everything before his pilot could reach the Glorious. The aircraft carrier turned on its searchlights, sounded sirens continuously and sent out radio signals in an effort to establish its location for the plane. However, it was only when the fog lifted an hour later that the prince's plane could land on the Glorious.

Mrs. McCormick Better As Her Daughter Nears

Chicago, Aug. 16 (A.P.).—With her daughter, Mrs. Mathilde Oser, about to start the last lap of her transatlantic dash to her bedside, the condition of Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick was reported tonight to have improved so much that she no longer was in immediate danger.

The improvement was so pronounced that her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. Parmalee Prentice, who came here last week when her life almost was despaired of, started back to their home in the East. Mrs. Oser, accompanied by her husband, Max, former Swiss riding master, landed from the steamship Majestic at New York and was expected here by Thursday at the latest.

Col. Lindbergh Urges Privacy for New Boy

Appeals to Press Not to Give Second Child Publicity Which He Blames in Death of First; Mother Doing Fine.

Englewood, N. J., Aug. 16 (U.P.).—A new mite of humanity, heir to the fortunes and tragedies of the most famous man in the world, slept tonight in the nursery of the kidnaped and murdered Charles Augustus Lindbergh, jr. A nurse watched over him. A doctor was in attendance.

Erich Stahlberg.
ANNE LINDBERGH.

In an adjoining room Anne Morrow Lindbergh rested from the ordeal of motherhood, listened delightedly to the shrill wails of the new arrival, who was to help her forget the horrible fate of her first born.

Hovering about, first at her bedside, then downstairs, then bending over the crib, was Col. Lindbergh, far more anxious and far more flustered than any of the members of the Morrow family or of the others who attended Mrs. Lindbergh.

Tonight he left the crib of his newly born son to telegraph an appeal to the press to "permit our children to lead the lives of normal Americans." It was addressed to editors of newspapers and press associations.

His full telegram follows:

"Mrs. Lindbergh and I have made our home in New Jersey. It is naturally our wish to continue to live there near our friends and interests. Obviously, however, it is impossible for us to subject the life of our second son to the publicity which we feel was in a large measure responsible for the death of our first. We feel that our children have a right to grow up normally with other children. Continued publicity will make this impossible. I am appealing to

GRAND JURY INDICTS 3 VETERANS IN RIOTS

Reports Ignore Reds' Role in Eviction; Trio Charged With Assault.

After a two weeks' grand jury probe of the origin of bonus army disorders, with the Attorney General's office assisting the district attorney in presentation of evidence, indictments for assault with a dangerous weapon were returned yesterday against three bonus marchers.

The veterans indicted have been locked up at the District jail since July 28. They are Bernard McCoy, 36, of Chicago; John O. Olson, 44, of Valparaiso, Nebr., and Broadus Faulkner, alias Brotis Saulkner, 32, of Kentucky. No report, over and above the routine indictments, was made by the jury.

Activities of the so-called left wing of the army, and the jury's investigation into this phase of the disorders, had led to the belief that Communist participation might result in a special report, especially in view of Justice Luhring's instructions to the jurors.

The indictment against McCoy was in three counts, the first charging him with assault with a brick on Policeman James E. Scott, who is still in the hospital from wounds received in the Pennsylvania avenue fracas. The second count charges McCoy with assault with a blunt instrument, while the third alleges the assault was made with intent to kill.

Olson was indicted for an alleged attack with a table leg on Policeman Richard O. Bankert. The indictment, in two counts, charged Olson used a table leg or other blunt instrument.

BRITAIN ACTS TO END HINDU-MOSLEM ROW

London, Aug. 16 (U.P.).—The British government tonight attempted to cut the Gordian knot in India's turbulent political life by announcing a provisional settlement of the ancient communal struggle between Hindus and Moslems.

This settlement is intended to blast out the chief obstacle to progress toward self-government for the great subcontinent of 360,000,000 persons—but Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald admitted that it probably will be criticized by every community in India.

The government was forced to act after the Indian leaders, including the Mahatma M. K. Candhi, now in prison for his activities against British rule, had failed completely in efforts to strike a compromise.

Aside from the clauses attempting to divide representation in the Legislatures according to racial population, one of the most interesting features of the settlement was a guarantee that 37 seats in the proposed new legislatures should go to women. This was inserted despite the insistence of Indian women that they do not want such privileged treatment.

The settlement gives the Moslems ample legislative majorities in the northwest frontier province, and the Sind, where they are strongest, and a bare working majority in the Punjab, where strength is more equally divided.

No faction has a majority in the great state of Bengal, where the Mos-

Hoover Leads Fishing Party With Catch of 15 Bay Trout

Crisfield Md., Aug. 16 (A.P.).—Making a full day of it around some of Chesapeake Bay's best known fishing grounds, President Hoover today hauled in fifteen trout, one of them a 3-footer.

With the Chief Executive as he battled with the finny tribe from the deck of the Commerce Department inspection boat, Sequoia, and again from a small speedboat, was John Crockett, tall, grizzled fisherman of Tangier Island, who was asked to assist the President in finding the best fishing spots.

His guests were still asleep, but three of them—Secretary Hurley, Clarence M. Woolley, president of the American Radiator Co., and Will Irwin, the author and Mr. Hoover's college mate—later went on a tour of quaint Tangier.

Afterward Secretary Hurley joined the President in some fishing. The entire party snagged about 40 fish during the day.

"Mr. Hoover is a good fisherman," Crockett drawled out to newspapermen at this little Eastern Shore (Maryland) town. "He caught more than anybody else. He is a very pleasant man. I'll be glad to go out again if he comes down here any more."

The Sequoia headed for an unannounced destination tonight, although it was understood the President planned to be back in Washington tomorrow.

Tentative plans call for the President's return to Washington tomorrow and departure either soon afterward or on Thursday for the Hoover camp in the Blue Ridge Mountains. It was possible that instead of returning to the Capital by way of the Potomac River, the Sequoia might dock at Norfolk or Annapolis, where the Chief Executive would be met by White House automobiles.

GARNER SEEKS SMITH AID FOR PARTY TICKET

SPEAKER IS HOPEFUL OF HIS ACTIVE HELP

Praises Standard-Bearer of 1928; New Yorker Urged as Campaign Orator.

New York, Aug. 16 (A.P.).—Behind the closed doors of Al Smith's skyscraper office, Speaker Garner and the "Happy Warrior" conferred over the Roosevelt-Garner campaign for nearly an hour today.

"I have hopes he will support the ticket," said Democracy's weather-beaten vice presidential nominee, as he came from the room smiling. "Actively," he later added.

"But let him speak for himself," the Texan said quickly when asked for details of their conversation.

Forty-five minutes after Garner had left, Smith came from his office. His jaw was squarely set. His customary smile was missing.

Refuses to Comment.

In closely clipped words he answered all questions concerning the conference with this statement:

"About everything that took place with Mr. Garner I have not a single word to say—not a single word."

"But will you speak for the Roosevelt-Garner ticket?" he was asked.

"That's the same question put in another way," he replied.

Then, turning on his heel, he walked back into his private office.

Garner had expressed the opinion that, in active support of the ticket, Smith would be worth "more than any one man."

Twenty-four hours before he had told a group of New England leaders he thought the 1928 standard bearer would have made "one of the greatest Presidents this country has ever known."

Smith Urged as Orator.

Democratic headquarters have received numerous requests for Smith's appearance as a campaign orator in New England States which supported him at Chicago.

The conference with Smith was Garner's own idea, he explained, as he came beaming from the Fifth avenue skyscraper.

"I came to see him because he is a great American and one of the outstanding citizens of New York.

"I don't see how any leading Democrat could come to New York without calling on him—and I guess it's all right to call myself a leading Democrat."

Speaker Garner arrived here last night from New York. He plans to leave for Cincinnati this evening over the Chesapeake & Ohio.

Address Here Used By Boy's Kidnaper

Lad, 10, Taken From Home in Massachusetts; Hunt Is Started.

Lawrence, Mass., Aug. 16 (U.P.).—The supposed kidnaping of a 10-year-old boy by a man who said he wanted the youngster to live "on my Maryland farm," was revealed by police today, who said the boy's mother had reported it to them Saturday.

The boy, John Hall, returned from a moving picture theater a few days ago with $1.45, which he told his mother had been given him by a man who told him to buy himself "some overalls and sneakers" as a birthday present.

Friday, Mrs. Hall said, the man appeared at her home when only the boy and a sister were in the house. He told John to "get his clothes together quick," as he was taking him to a farm in Maryland. With the sister he left a Washington, D. C., address, which police kept secret.

He placed John in an automobile which contained two young men and a girl and drove away. He was described as elderly, with gray hair, and an English accent. Mrs. Hall is a scrubwoman and her husband is a city employe.

Chinese Slay American; Third U.S. Protest Filed

Peiping, China, Aug. 16 (A.P.).—Lieut. Robert H. Soule, assistant military attache at the United States Legation, reported from Sianfu today that Henry Ekval, an American employed by the China-United States Motor Co., of Hankow, had been slain by Chinese soldiers near Sianfu last month.

The legation forwarded its third protest to Nanking and to the Shensi provincial authorities, urging prompt steps to apprehend the culprits.

Walker Hints Woman In Case Betty Compton

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 16 (U.P.).—Mayor James J. Walker, in his testimony today, identified as a woman the unnamed person mentioned in his hearings on removal charges.

He told the press that because of Gov. Roosevelt's rule against revealing the name of the woman he could not say, in or out of the hearing, whether she was Betty Compton, musical comedy actress.

"But you did tell some one this noon it was Betty, didn't you?" he was asked.

"I was asked if it was Betty Compton," the mayor replied, "and I replied, 'Who do you suppose it was?'"

"Were you talking in confidence, Mr. Mayor?" he was asked.

"Oh, you can use that," he replied, carelessly.

ENGLISH-CANADIAN PACT SIGNING SET

Scope of Accord Slated for Saturday Hinges Upon Russian Dumping.

Ottawa, Ontario, Aug. 16 (A.P.).—If Canada can get ample assurances from Great Britain that Dominion products will be safeguarded against Russian dumping in British markets, a plenary session of the imperial economic conference will be held Saturday in an atmosphere of confidence that the empire has moved toward the greatest trading unit the world ever has known.

When the Canadian cabinet went into session today it was understood that Britain and the Dominion would sign some sort of agreement, even if it were nothing more than an exchange of felicitations.

This evening it was announced that the final plenary session had been put off from Thursday until Saturday. The liner Empress of Britain, on which many of the delegates will sail, changed her departure from Saturday to Sunday.

On the strength of a suggestion by Neville Chamberlain, British chancellor of the exchequer, that in one form or another the United Kingdom would guarantee Canada equal footing with Russia, Prime Minister R. B. Bennett widened his order of preferences to Britain and the Dominions.

Since then, however, Mr. Chamberlain has been unable to obtain the unanimous backing of his own delegation.

Viscount Hailsham, secretary for war, and Sir Philip Cunliffe-Lister, colonial secretary, are understood to be siding with the chancellor of the exchequer, but Stanley Baldwin, chief of the delegation, and J. H. Thomas, Dominions secretary, are represented as arguing that Britain can not sacrifice her trade with Russia.

It was said that in transatlantic telephone conversations Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald also has declared against jeopardizing economic relations with the Soviet government. Moscow, it is understood, has informed London that Russian purchases in the United Kingdom next year will be in the neighborhood of $150,000,000.

Because of that prediction and the well-known fact that Russia liquidates her obligations to Britain from the proceeds of her sales in British markets, the United Kingdom delegation has been unable to agree on a tariff of more than 6 cents a bushel on foreign wheat with free entry for empire grain, and 20 per cent preference on empire lumber.

Canada is understood to have withdrawn her demand for an absolute embargo on Russian goods by Britain, but she is insisting that the British guarantee that when a cargo Canadian produce reaches British waters it will not be undersold by a similar cargo from Russia.

Borah Silent as Drys Offer Him Nomination

Boise, Idaho, Aug. 16 (A.P.).—Offered the presidential nomination on the Prohibition ticket, Senator William E. Borah withheld comment today.

It was not ascertained when he will reply to Dr. Clarence True Wilson, chairman of the Board of Temperance and Public Morals of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and Leigh Colvin, national chairman of the Prohibition party, who urged him at a conference last night to enter the field against the Republican and Democratic candidates.

Weston Leads Wyoming Governorship Contest

SHERWOOD LINK IS DELVED INTO IN WALKER QUIZ

Roosevelt Grills Mayor Sharply on Agent's Disappearance.

ACCUSED EXECUTIVE ATTACKS "INNUENDO"

Payments Made to "Unknown Person" Are Discussed at Hearing.

Executive Chamber, Albany, N. Y., Aug. 16 (A.P.).—Leaning forward across his executive desk, Gov. Roosevelt turned today the full force of his examination of Mayor Walker on ouster charges toward an explanation of why the mayor failed to get in touch with Russell T. Sherwood, the missing accountant, who reputedly handled financial transactions of nearly a million.

On the stand for the fourth day, Walker steadfastly maintained he did not know Sherwood's whereabouts, that he had made every effort to get in touch with him and that his relations with Sherwood were only routine business affairs.

Outside the "hall of governors," where the hearing was in progress, Walker was asked if the "unknown person" whose receipt of $41,000 from Sherwood has been mentioned were Betty Compton, the actress.

"Who do you suppose it was?" was Walker's reply.

"Unknown Person" Woman.

On the witness stand Walker disclaimed authorizing Sherwood to issue a letter of credit, or to transfer stock in the Brooklyn Manhattan Transit Co. to the "unknown person." He said the "unknown person" was a woman and a friend of his.

Shooting questions rapidly at the mayor, Gov. Roosevelt pressed him on what he had done to locate Sherwood, for whom Samuel Seabury, Hofstadter committee investigator, issued a subpena to testify.

Sherwood disappeared last August, three days after the subpena was issued. It was served on him at Mexico City. He ignored it. Walker said the police searched diligently for him.

"Wasn't it a matter of public notoriety when you got back from Europe (last September) that he'd skipped?" the governor, leaning across his desk and looking directly, asked.

"It was not," said Walker. "He had gone away to be married."

"Didn't you know the whole town was looking for Sherwood?"

"I did not."

Walker Raises Voice.

Speaking rapidly, Mr. Roosevelt queried:

"Didn't you see the headlines? Didn't you read the papers? Didn't you communicate with him by telegraph or telephone in Mexico City?"

Walker, raising his voice, answered, "I did not. There was no necessity."

"Don't you think it strange that when a man with whom you had a joint deposit box and who handled many of your business affairs turned up at a given point, you didn't com-

FATHER COX AND 400 ARRIVE IN ST. LOUIS

Meets Coin Harvey at Track; Both Ambitious to Run for President.

St. Louis, Aug. 16 (A.P.).—The Rev. James R. Cox, Pittsburgh priest, and about 400 of his "jobless" party delegates, arrived late today at Creve Coeur Racetrack in St. Louis County, the site of a proposed national convention of the "jobless" and Liberty parties tomorrow and Thursday.

With Harvey were about 100 of his delegates from States in the Southwest and West. Harvey was one of the sponsors of the free silver movement in the 90's.

With the meeting of the two leaders, there arose the problem of who would control the convention, and in the case of a coalition, the choice of a presidential nominee.

Harvey has already been nominated for the Presidency by the Liberty party, meeting at Monte Ne, Ark., last year. Father Cox on the other hand, is receptive to the nomination by the convention.

He has expressed himself as anxious to get together with Harvey and the Liberty party, saying "the program of our Blue Shirts and his Liberty party don't seem to be so different that there should be any great trouble about it. But if Mr. Harvey won't play ball, we will play alone, even if it is only an exhibition game."

The Pittsburgh priest then explained that he held the preponderance of votes, as one of his party possessed the proxy for 200,000 delegates unable to attend the convention. Members of the Liberty party apparently had not brought proxies from absent delegates. Some saw a threat of defection in the announcement today by Harvey that he would speak at a mass meeting tomorrow night at Lake Creve Coeur, about a mile and a half from the race track.

Harvey announced he would "make what's wrong with the Government as simple as A. B. C." He denied, however, that his announcement was an indication that he would not officially participate in the convention.

Plea of Fire Chief Holds Up His Trial

Cabin John Captain Seeks Right of Counsel to Attend Hearing.

Trial of Fire Chief Thomas W. Sullivan of the Cabin John Volunteer Fire Department on nine charges of negligence of duty and misconduct is being held in abeyance while the board of directors weigh his plea that he be permitted to bring counsel to the trial.

His counsel was refused admittance at a meeting of the trial board Monday night and Chief Sullivan noted an appeal to the directors.

The charges were secret until yesterday, when news of the new disturbance in the department leaked out. Two factions, one headed by Chief Sullivan and the other by David S. Tuohey, department president and chairman of the trial board, have reached such bitterness, it was stated, that disruption of the department is threatened. Chief Sullivan said he would carry the matter to the Circuit Court if necessary to insure admittance of counsel at his hearing.

Capital Woman Dies in Florida

Mrs. Winifred Fosse Leaves Note Indicating Suicide by Gas.

Daytona Beach, Fla., Aug. 16 (U.P.).—Winifred B. Fosse, of Washington, D. C., was found dead at a tourist camp here today. A note left by her indicated suicide by gas. An envelope was found in her effects addressed to Walter Plankenborn, 2930 Fourteenth street northwest, Washington, understood to be her agent.

Mrs. Fosse lived in Washington for several years, but left here in February to manage the Red Brick Tavern Inn in Dumfries, Va. At the hotel it was said she left two weeks ago for a trip to Florida, which she hoped would improve her health.

She is survived by one son, Russell Fosse, of Beloit, Wis., who came to Dumfries to visit her shortly after she took charge of the hotel there. He returned to Wisconsin when she left for Florida. Several sisters, who live in Wisconsin, also survive.

Big Advance Made In Smashing Atoms

Experiments of Germans Prove Successful; New Tests Slated.

Berlin, Aug. 16 (A.P.).—Sledgehammer voltages loosed by discharging the entire capacity of electrical energy generated at the big power plant of the German General Electric Co. have smashed atoms, it was disclosed today, at a rate at which the usual devices no longer suffice to measure the wreckage.

This was revealed by company officials who announced proudly that the experiments of its engineers, Fritz Lange and Arno Brasch, had been crowned with success which surpasses even the efforts of the Englishmen, Walton and Cockroft.

Following the suggestion of the American physicist, Coolidge, vacuum tubes were linked one behind the other, whereupon 5,000,000 volts, charging and accelerating the particles to 1,000,000 volts was released. It was said that atoms of lighter elements, like lithium, were demolished by the million. The engineers have dismantled their apparatus and are now building another capable of generating 7,000,000 volts to smash heavier elements.

Smoot Urges Home Bank for Utah.

(Associated Press.)

Senator Smoot, of Utah, called on Chairman Fort, of the newly organized home loan bank board, yesterday to urge that one of the district banks of the system be located in Utah. Fort promised serious consideration. The senator leaves today for his home at Salt Lake City.

Mr. Walker gave a negative answer.

"Here was a man who had been associated with you in a personal capacity for fifteen years—" There was a trace of annoyance in Mr. Roosevelt's voice.

Walker interrupted with, "No. That isn't true."

Mr. Roosevelt thought it was "strange that you should not try to locate" Sherwood, and Walker said "there was no necessity until he disappeared."

Mayor Protests.

"So you just let it ride?" the governor observed.

The mayor was on his feet protesting, and both John J. Curtin, his legal adviser, and Seabury arose.

"Your Excellency may infer as you will," Walker said, with a sweep of his arms. "There has been much innuendo in this case. I think I have shown you I tried to find him."

Roosevelt read from the investigation record that a letter of credit was given to the "unknown person" by Sherwood in the spring of 1931, and that it was increased from time to time during the summer. The mayor said he knew nothing about the credit letter, adding:

"I do know that Sherwood handled income tax matters for the unnamed person and an examination of her accounts would show she had several bank accounts in the city."

That was the first indication that the mystery person was a woman.

Later the governor asked, "Was she a friend of yours?" and Mr. Walker replied, "Yes."

"Do you know of any reason why Sherwood should have arranged this letter of credit for her?" was the next question.

"No, except that he handled other matters for her, as was brought out yesterday," the mayor replied. "He handled an investment for another unnamed person figuring in the testimony."

The select audience in the executive chamber was keyed up in anticipation when the governor inquired of Walker if he knew "the name of the person" to whom Sherwood transferred stocks.

Attorney Objects.

Curtin objected, was overruled and the mayor said, "I've just read it on the back of the certificate."

"Do you know the person?" insisted Mr. Roosevelt.

"I know a person by that name," was the reply.

Roosevelt indicated he was through with the fifteen counts of the Seabury "analysis" and likely would turn to the charges preferred by James T. Finnegan and William Schleffelin, unless the mayor desired to call witnesses. Mr. Curtin said yesterday he expected to call about twelve witnesses. Finnegan has submitted a list of 40 to Roosevelt.

It appeared unlikely tonight that the hearing would be concluded before Friday when Mr. Roosevelt leaves for Columbus, Ohio, to make his first road speech in his campaign for the Presidency.

Mrs. Walker, wife of the mayor, returned to New York today on advice of her physician, Dr. William Schroeder, who accompanied her. She collapsed yesterday while attending church services with the mayor.

THREE BONUS ARMY MEMBERS ARE INDICTED BY GRAND JURY

"feloniously and wilfully to strike, beat, bruise, cut, penetrate and wound" Bankert.

The Faulkner indictment alleges he used a piece of brick in an attack on Policeman John E. Winters. This indictment also was in two counts. The second charged he used a blunt instrument.

Fifteen years is the maximum penalty for assault with intent to kill, while a maximum of ten years may be imposed for assault with a dangerous weapon.

Immediately following the disorders and the United States Army evacuation of the veterans, Attorney General William D. Mitchell conferred with United States Attorney Leo A. Rover, directing that evidence concerning the affair be laid before the grand jury.

Later Justice Luhring called the jury before him and ordered a thorough investigation, particularly into the alleged communistic origin of the riots. Assistant Attorney General Nugent Dodds was assigned to aid Mr. Rover.

District Commissioners Reichelderfer and Crosby and Chief of Police Glassford testified during the two weeks' inquiry, as did other officials and eyewitnesses of the disorders.

Search Failed to Reveal Arms in Camps, Say Police

Searches of the bonus camps by police revealed that there were no weapons concealed in them, police officials stated yesterday in answer to charges made by Representative Royal C. Johnson, of South Dakota, before the annual State convention of the American Legion at La Crosse, Wis., Monday night.

Explosives, arms and ammunition were concealed in one of the larger camps, Representative Johnson told legion members. Police said yesterday reports of concealed dynamite had been investigated by members of the department and found without foundation.

Members of the camp police who were appointed by the bonus army were said to have discovered a few dynamite sticks, and have destroyed them. Rumore that the veterans were planning to resist eviction at Camp Marks, with machine guns and arms, were proved without basis when no evidence of weapons or ammunition was discovered, police said.

G. O. P. Blamed by Butler For B. E. F. Red Publicity

Newton Square, Pa., Aug. 16 (A.P.).—Maj. Gen. Smedley D. Butler, in a statement today in reply to Representative Royal C. Johnson, of South Dakota, said the only knowledge he had of communistic influence in the bonus army camp in Washington "came from administration statements to the press."

The retired Marine general also denied he had said he would have nothing further to do with the bonus marchers, as Johnson stated last night at an American Legion banquet at La Crosse, Wis.

"My attention has been called to an Associated Press dispatch in which Representative Johnson is quoted as saying that I must have had knowledge of the communistic background to the bonus expeditionary force in Washington," Gen. Butler said.

"It does not seem logical to me that had dynamite, guns and ammunition been found at the veterans' camp, the great honor of making the fact public would have been left to a representative. Nor does it seem logical that such an important disclosure would have been ignored in numerous 'white papers' issued by the administration."

PRIVACY FOR NEW LINDBERGH BABY IS SOUGHT BY PARENTS

the press to permit our children to lead the lives of normal Americans." (Sgd.) "CHARLES A. LINDBERGH."

The telegram served direct notice that the world's most famous man intended to wage a desperate fight for the privacy which the world has denied him since his lone flight to Paris. It is known that he regards the matter of being permitted to live quietly and normally without constant fanfare as absolutely vital.

The new baby was born at 7:30 a. m. today. It is a boy, but the color of his hair, of his eyes, his weight, length and the other statistical knowledge that is usually announced has not been made public and probably will not be for many days. Col. Lindbergh graciously confirmed the report of the baby's birth. He gave the time and said it was a boy.

"Mother and baby doing fine," he said, chuckling.

Name Not Yet Selected.

It was understood that a name has not yet been selected for him. He was born in the big, rambling colonial mansion on the Morrow estate, in the same room where his brother was born. Charles and Anne Lindbergh have been at the Morrow home for several months, awaiting this regenerative influence to their shattered dreams. They came here from their own home at Hopewell, scene of their travail, soon after the mutilated body of the first baby was found May 12.

As soon as Mrs. Lindbergh is able to be about, the Lindberghs probably will return to Hopewell, despite the memories it must hold for them. Arthur Springer, Mrs. Morrow's secretary, was there today and reports said he was preparing the lonely house in the Sourland Hills for their occupancy.

But when they do return to Hopewell, they will live differently than they did before. When Lindbergh built the house, he thought its isolation would protect him from the outside world. The isolation worked against him, not for him, and this time the grounds will be patrolled by private police and detectives will guard the gates and the house.

Mrs. Morrow With Daughter.

In the Morrow home today, Mrs. Morrow was the only near relative present. Mrs. Lindbergh's sisters and her brother are abroad. Mrs. Morrow was with them, but returned to be with Anne during her ordeal. Dr. E. M. Hawks and Dr. E. H. Dennen, who attended Mrs. Lindbergh during the birth of her first child, acted in the same capacity today. Betty Gow, little Charles' nursemaid at the time he was kidnaped, is visiting her parents in Scotland, but will return to be nurse to the new baby.

The birth of the second child was not unexpected. Mrs. Morrow, during the frenzied search for the kidnaped baby, had let it be known that another child was expected. It was as though by mutual consent, the world had decided to allow the Lindberghs every measure of privacy.

Col. Lindbergh urged newspaper correspondents not to congregate around the gates of the Morrow home and obtained their withdrawal on his promise promptly to notify the press associations when the baby was born. He kept his promise to the letter.

TELEGRAPHIC DISPATCHES

Dallas, Tex., Aug. 16 (A.P.).—N. H. Wolfe, of Dallas, who led the prohibition forces in Texas when the saloons were closed, predicted today that speeches made last night in New York by John Nance Garner, Democratic vice presidential nominee, will drive Texas into the Republican column again this fall.

Erwin, Tenn., Aug. 16 (A.P.).—Mrs. Charles Pugh, 32, and her 22 months old baby, Bettie Lou, were found shot to death in bed early today, the discovery being made by two small sons, who were awakened by pistol shots. A 38 calibre revolver was in the bed beside the bodies. Coroner John Chandler held that Mrs. Pugh had shot the infant and then turned the weapon upon herself.

Indianapolis, Aug. 16 (A.P.).—The Indiana General Assembly adjourned early today after virtually cutting property taxes in half. A bill passed by the Legislature and approved by Gov. Harry G. Leslie limits the tax rate for next year to $1.50 on each $100 of taxables. The present rate in many parts of the State is more than $3.00 and the general average is $2.82.

Oakland, Calif., Aug. 16 (A.P.).—Gov. James Rolph, jr., suggested here today before the State convention of the American Legion that California "assume the obligation of the Federal Government and pay to California war veterans their bonus."

Montgomery, Ala., Aug. 16 (A.P.).—An income tax, a bond issue of $20,000,0000 to retire the current deficit, and cuts in salaries and appropriations were asked of the Alabama State Legislature today by Gov. B. M. Miller in a message which he read in person shortly after the opening of a special session.

DEATH THREATS LAID TO LANCASTER DIARY

Prosecutor Will Conclude Argument Today in Miami Murder Trial.

Miami, Fla., Aug. 16 (A.P.).—Shouted assertions that the personal diary of Capt. W. N. Lancaster, day after day, carried death threats to the man who stole the love of Mrs. J. M. Keith-Miller were made today by State Attorney N. Vernon Hawthorne to the jury hearing the trial of Lancaster for the slaying of Haden Clarke.

"The defense tells you that this man committed suicide," Mr. Hawthorne said. "State witnesses, uncontradicted, have shown a clear case of murder, contemplated clear across a continent, by a man who is capable and cold and crafty. His diary shows his intent, day after day, to kill Haden Clarke."

Mr. Hawthorne's argument followed a four-hour plea by Defense Counsel James M. Carson.

Their arguments were dotted with inferences of untrue State testimony, made by Mr. Carson, and with charges by Mr. Hawthorne that Mr. Carson deliberately prolonged the trial to gain publicity for himself and Lancaster.

Mr. Carson expressed pity for Mrs. J. M. Keith-Miller, over whom the State contended Lancaster shot Mr. Clarke. The latter had replaced Lancaster as her fiance while Lancaster was in the West on an unsuccessful business trip.

The attorney described her tangled love life.

"This woman's bravery is an outstanding point in this trial, as she brings into the glaring light of public opinion that story of weaknesses she had thought would be forever hidden."

Mr. Carson told the jury Mr. Clarke's death was an "honor suicide" when he realized a recurring illness would prevent his proposed marriage to Mrs. Keith-Miller.

Mr. Hawthorne had not concluded his argument when Judge H. F. Atkinson ordered court recessed until tomorrow.

Special to The Washington Post.

Hagerstown, Md., Aug. 16.—Norman S. Bowles, of Washington, was sentenced to 90 days in jail here today for contempt of court by Chief Judge Lindsey Sloan. The charge grew out of a statement made by Bowles in a petition filed in court in a civil suit asking removal of the suit to another jurisdiction. The suit concerns the Moller Music Co., in which Bowles contended he was a stockholder.

He contended in his petition in the suit that he could not receive a fair hearing because of relationship of the court with the persons he was suing. Bowles called in a number of local attorneys today whom he claimed told him he could not obtain a fair verdict in the local court. Bowles, formerly a practicing attorney in Washington, noted an appeal and was released under $2,000 bail.

Mrs. Gann in Topeka For Curtis Ceremony

Topeka, Aug. 16 (A.P.).—Mrs. Dolly Gann returned to her old home today to attend the ceremony here Thursday at which her brother, Vice President Curtis, will be notified of his renomination by the Republican party.

With her came Mrs. Webster Knight II of Providence, R. I., a daughter of the Vice President and Rhode Island member of the official notification committee. Mrs. Gann, who will take an active part in the campaign, praised President Hoover's speech of acceptance.

Arlington Democratic Women Map Campaign

Meeting last night at the home of Mrs. Amos Donaldson, in Cherrydale, the Arlington County Woman's Democratic Club perfected its plans for increasing its membership in each of the eleven voting precincts.

Mrs. Catherine M. Rogers, president, announced the appointment of a special committee consisting of herself, Mrs. Isabelle Davis and Mrs. Ethel Bates to meet with a like committee from the Men's Club and the county committee to formulate plans for the campaign.

River Yields Body Of Theodore Royce

Police Free Dead Man's Two Companions, Held for Two Days.

The body of Theodore Royce, 23, 1259 Owens place northeast, was recovered from the waters of the upper Potomac yesterday near the spot where the canoe in which he and two companions were cruising overturned Sunday evening. Police of the Harbor Precinct, who had been dragging the river for more than 40 hours, found the body.

The boat trip was the first time Royce had ventured on the river. Friends had persuaded him to overcome his fear of the water and accompany them. The small craft capsized soon after the party left the shore.

A certificate of accidental death was issued by the coroner when the body was identified. Officers H. G. Pywell and J. W. Clinkscales recovered the body. John F. Williams, 26, of 1803 Newton street northwest, and James E. Hilleary, 22, of Fort Myer Heights, Va., who were rescued when the boat overturned, were released by police, who were holding them as witnesses if an inquest was ordered.

Red Trade Envoy Advocate Returns

Col. Frederick Pope, Back From Russia, May Lay Plan Before Stimson.

New York, Aug. 16 (A.P.).—Col. Frederick Pope, New York industrialist, who presented to Soviet officials last month a suggestion that the United States send an unofficial commissioner to Russia, returned on the Majestic late today and prepared to go immediately to Washington. Col. Pope, who is acting in a private capacity, conferred with Secretary Stimson before he left.

While Col. Pope declined to discuss his mission to Washington it was expected he would resume his conversations on the subject with State Department officials, informing them of the Soviet's reception to the plan.

On his return today Col. Pope issued a written statement and declined to elaborate on it.

"While my recent trip to Russia has confirmed my strong opinion that the present is not the time to resume normal diplomatic relations with Russia," it said, "I am more than ever convinced that the need for an unofficial observer, commissioner, or call him what you will, to look out for the interest of American firms doing business in Russia and for the Americans there, is great today and grows greater every day."

TEXAS STORM TOLL MOUNTS TO 39 DEAD

Injured in Hurricane Totals 500, Over 50 Seriously; Many Homeless.

Houston, Tex., Aug. 16 (A.P.).—The debris of last Saturday's hurricane today gave up 7 more victims, bringing to 39 the number who lost their lives.

Coordinated relief efforts extending over hundreds of square miles of storm area were going forward.

The number seriously injured was known to be beyond 50 and estimates of those slightly injured ran as high as 500 or more. Twenty-five were being treated in an emergency relief hospital at Freeport, 12 at Angleton and 14 at Houston.

Those added today to the list of dead were:

Mrs. J. L. Fauche, 35, Angleton; two unidentified Mexican children, Freeport; Mrs. G. B. Eversole of Damon Mound; unidentified white man, Hoskins Mound; unidentified woman, Shore West, Galveston Bay; Mattie Lipton, Negress, Brazoria.

Democratic Club Holds First Rally

Progressive Group Names Campaign Committee for Montgomery.

Franklin D. Roosevelt and the Democratic platform were lauded at a meeting of the Progressive Democratic Club last night at the farm of E. Cecil Allnut on the Rockville-Potomac pike, near Rockville. The meeting was the first Democratic rally to be held in Montgomery County.

Addresses were made by E. Barrett Prettyman, of Chevy Chase; John E. Oxley, of Poolesville, and Mrs. Parker Weller, of Beallsville. About 125 attended the rally.

Members of the executive committee are E. Barrett Prettyman, Robert L. Tolson, William L. Aud, Edward Peter and Carey Quinn. A committee consisting of Vinson Peter, Jo V. Morgan and John E. Oxley was appointed to take charge of the campaign of the group. The Progressives plan to give whole-hearted support to the Democratic candidates without sacrificing their dislike of the regular Democratic organization.

R.F.C. Lends $1,096,084 To Louisiana for Needy

(United Press.)

Louisiana obtained a $1,096,084 unemployment relief loan from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation yesterday, the first State to receive a loan not earmarked for use in certain localities.

The corporation announced the loan was made on proof submitted by the delegation sent here that various parishes were in imperative need of aid. The loan, it was stipulated, is to care for the destitute through work relief up to the first of the year. The loan to Louisiana brings to $6,746,000 the amount lent out of the $300,000,000 fund for loans to States provided for in the unemployment relief act.

MERRILL SLAYING BELIEVED SOLVED

Fingerprint Check Indicates Prowler, Now Dead, Killed Woman.

Chicago, Aug. 16 (A.P.).—Fingerprints and personal identifications today were credited by New Orleans and Natchez, Miss., police with having definitely solved the mysterious slaying of Miss Jane Surget Merrill in her old Southern mansion near Natchez August 4.

Sheriff Clarence P. Roberts, of Natchez, and Maurice B. O'Neil, superintendent of the New Orleans bureau of identification, today compared the fingerprints of George Pearles, Negro shot to death by Pine Bluff, Ark., police, with those of Lawrence Williams, Negro known to have been in the vicinity of the Merrill home the night of the slaying, and said they coincided.

Will Tulls, Natchez Negro and friend of Lawrence, viewed the body of Pearles and identified it as that of Lawrence, officials said. Further identification was made by Pearles' mother and sister here. Tulls was brought to Chicago by Roberts and O'Neil.

"We haven't been able to compare Pearles' fingerprints with those found on furniture and woodwork in the Merrill home," O'Neil said, "but from what we know now, we are confident that Miss Merrill was slain by the Negro, probably for money. Sheriff Roberts and I left Natchez so suddenly that we were unable to bring copies of the other fingerprints with us."

Miss Merrill was the daughter of a former United States Ambassador to Belgium and for years had led a sequestered life in her old mansion. Richard H. Dana, nephew of the late Charles A. Dana, famous journalist, and Miss Octavia Dockery, his housekeeper in his so-called "goat castle" adjoining the Merrill estate, were released yesterday in Natchez after prolonged investigatoin. They were reported to have quarreled with Miss Merrill.

Lack of Jobs Forces Out Engineer in Arlington

Manager Roy S. Braden of Arlington County announced last night that C. L. Kinnier, county engineer, is no longer identified with the engineering department of the county. This action was taken because the county board has not authorized any road work at this time, he said.

Kinnier was in the employ of the county for four years. Prior to that time he was with the Virginia State Highway Department for more than seven years.

Mount Rainier Bans Parking Tank Wagons

The mayor and council of Mount Rainier have notified town police that parking of gasoline tank wagons on the public streets is in violation of the town ordinance which prohibits storage of gasoline in quantities of more than 10 gallons above the ground, except in the tanks of automobiles.

The town clerk has been instructed to inform owners of the tank wagons of the ruling.

HINDU-MOSLEM PACT DRAFTED BY BRITAIN

lems are allotted 119 seats out of 250, with a possibility that they will get a couple more through special constituencies.

Provision is made for separate electorates for Hindus, Moslems, Sikhs, Indian Christians, Anglo Indians and Europeans. Special constituencies are provided for landholders, commerce, industry and labor, giving each an assured representation in the legislatures.

The untouchables will vote with the Hindu constituencies, but also will have separate constituencies where they are most numerous, thus giving them a double vote despite the vigorous protests of Gandhi.

The settlement deals only with the lower houses of the proposed provincial legislatures, provided for in the projected new Indian constitution. The seats in the Federal Legislature were not allotted because it is impossible to fix the size of that body until the number of native states joining the federation is known.

The government appealed to all Indians to consider the settlement and if it is not satisfactory to draft and approve an alternative scheme before the forthcoming Indian constitution bill in the British Parliament becomes a law.

Otherwise the settlement made by the government will be binding for ten years. Thereafter it may be revised.

FOREIGN NEWS IN BRIEF

Harbin, Manchuria, Aug. 16 (A.P.). Reports circulating in the United States that Tibetans were attacking Mongolia were ridiculed in responsible circles here today. Japanese, Russian and American authorities said the Tibetan army was largely imaginary and added the Russians have a strangle hold on Mongolia which a few Tibetan marauders could not possibly shake.

London, Aug. 16 (A.P.).—A message to Lloyds today from Tokyo said nineteen lives were lost when the steamer Hidemaru collided with the Nichifukumaru on the inland sea this morning. The Nichifukumaru sank shortly afterward.

Changchun, Manchuria, Aug. 16 (A.P.).—Messages received here today said all the passengers on a train from Mukden to Kirin were captured early this evening by bandits, who attacked the train at a point north of Chao Yang-Chen.

London, Aug. 16 (A.P.).—From the highest sources came a denial today of reports published in the United States regarding new naval conversations between representatives of the British and American governments. The reports were characterized as "pure invention."

Belfast, Northern Ireland, Aug. 16 (A.P.).—The Allstagh Orangemen's Hall, near Armagh City, was burned this morning. Explosives and gasoline were used. The Orange Hall at Caledon, on the Amagh-Tyronee border, was garrisoned Sunday night to prevent a Hibernian demonstration in the village yesterday. The Orangemen planned to drown out the Hibernians' speeches by beating on huge drums.

Paris, Aug. 16 (A.P.).—Norman Armour, counselor of the United States Embassy here, who has been appointed Minister to Haiti, said today he planned to go to Washington the first week in September before taking over his new post. J. Theodore Marriner, whose rank is also counselor of embassy, will take over Armour's post here.

Mounted Police For City Rejected

Made Impracticable by Too Many Automobiles, Crosby Rules.

Somewhat reluctantly, Maj. Gen. Herbert B. Crosby, retired chief of the U. S. Cavalry, yesterday rejected a proposal that mounted policemen be returned to Washington.

The District Commissioners concurred in the recommendation of Assistant Superintendent Lewis I. H. Edwards regarding the suggestion made by Owen Cummings, of Newark, N. J.

"Experience has shown that with the large number of automobiles in this city, horse-mounted men could not be used in this department to much advantage and that their services did not justify the additional compensation such men receive," he said. "For this reason, the use of the horse-mounted men was discontinued several years ago."

Man Hit by Lightning Weeks Ago Collapses

Lingering after-effects of a lightning stroke were blamed yesterday for the collapse of Eugene Belder, 23, of 5032 Fifth street northwest. He was found unconscious in the laundry truck he was driving in Custis place, Lyon Park, Va.

Belder was taken by the Jefferson District fire rescue squad to Emergency Hospital, where he was treated for heat exhaustion. He was struck by lightning several weeks ago. His condition is not serious.

Commissioners Name 3 As Trustees for Library

The District Commissioners yesterday reappointed Maurice Otterback and Mrs. Lyman B. Swormstedt for six-year terms on the District board of library trustees.

Mrs. Philip Sidney Smith was named to succeed Mrs. Marie M. Gosch, whose frequent absence from the city prevented her regular attendance at meetings.

Children's Sanatorium Laundry Contract Given

A contract for the construction of a heating and laundry plant in connection with the Children's Tuberculosis Sanatorium, Buena Vista, Md., was awarded yesterday by the District Commissioners to the McCormick-Lenham Co., Philadelphia, on its low bid of $86,984.

DEFENSE IN TRIAL OF VENABLE RESTS

Unpaid Tax Tickets Made Up "Book" Shortage, Says Former Official.

Warm Springs, Va., Aug. 16 (A.P.). The defense rested today in the trial of George B. Venable, former Bath County treasurer, after Venable had spent more than eight hours in the witness chair.

The move came as a surprise in the fifth day of the trial of the former treasurer who is charged with a shortage of more than $93,000 in his accounts.

Judge Don P. Halsey, of Lynchburg, who is sitting in the case, ordered the jury home, to return tomorrow morning when the court's instructions will be presented.

Most of the session was devoted to an effort by prosecution attorneys to break down Venable's testimony of yesterday.

The former treasurer said he could not set a definite figure for the count of uncollected tax tickets which he previously testified constituted all of the "book" shortage in his accounts. He admitted, however, that he had asked Miss Brownie Cleek, assistant cashier in the now-defunct Warm Springs Bank, to boost his balance by $24,000 last year.

He said his request was meant to cover the amount outstanding in uncollected tickets.

Prosecuting Attorney Bryan said that by deducting $10,000 for error in the preceding audit, $8,000 for warrants improperly charged, $52,000 on deposit in various banks and $25,000 for uncollected tax receipts, a shortage of approximately $9,000 would still remain.

D. E. Montcastle, a Covington banker, testified that a check for $2,000 which had been charged to the treasurer's account was a personal check.

PROSECUTION OPENS IN HEARING OF BALL

they were as they correspond to the records of the bank," which were before him. The checks were put in the trial record.

Payment Is Argued.

Pierce and Douglas argued briefly as to whether the note dated December 4 was paid. According to his records Pierce said, there was no notation of payment.

However, Frank L. Ball told the jury that the defense asserted that it had been paid. He waived cross-examination of Pierce. Judge McCarthy gave permission that he quiz him today.

Other bankers were called as prosecution witnesses. They were interrogated about deposits and balances in Ball's accounts.

Included were Thomas E. Cebrell, jr., secretary-treasurer of the Clarendon Trust Co.; L. H. Dudley, cashier of the Alexandria National Bank, and Arthur Herbert, of the Herbert & Burke Bank of Alexandria.

Their statements tended to show that many of the deposits were made by checks from Ball's accounts at other banks. When cross-examined by Mackey, each of the bankers admitted that all of Ball's checks were honored by the banks on which they were drawn.

Jesse Chaney, a clerk in the county treasurer's office, said that he had been employed by Ball for eight years. He asserted that the cash book was never balanced and that only the regular employes of the office received payments of money.

Braden Testifies.

County Manager Roy S. Braden testified that Ball had furnished him with a financial statement in February showing a balance of $119,452 as of December 31, 1931. Braden stated that the statement did not include school funds, State funds nor water debt funds.

The trial, which has crowded the Clarendon courtroom for two days, will resume today with the cross-examination of Pierce. Douglas does not expect to complete the introduction of prosecution testimony until tomorrow.

Mr. Clarke stated yesterday that it is the intention of his company to start their auditors to work on the records now that the State auditors are about finished with their investigation.

"The State auditors," said Mr. Clarke, "have assured me they would cooperate with the auditors my company has employed. It is to be hoped that we will not have to make a complete audit, and it is our intention to avoid it if possible. It would be unreasonable to expect any surety to face such a large claim as we understand will be asserted without making reasonable verification of the figures on which the claim is based."

DEBUCHI TO LEAVE FRIDAY FOR JAPAN

(United Press.)

Ambassador Katsuji Debuchi of Japan bade farewell yesterday to Acting Secretary of State Castle and prepared to leave Friday for Tokyo on a delicate and important diplomatic mission.

This mission is two fold. First, Debuchi will give his government a complete report on American public and official sentiment toward Japan's campaign in Manchuria. Second, he will gather data to justify to the State Department, when he returns here, the Asiatic policy of his government. He expects to be back in December.

Meanwhile it is expected the League of Nations investigating commission will have rendered its report on the Manchurian situation. The league will have considered it and the United States, presumably, will have decided how far it will go in upholding Chinese sovereignty, if the commission reports that it has been infringed in violation of the nine-power pact.

Reports, now filtering through the usual channels of diplomatic gossip, are that the league commission will accuse Japan of premeditated aggression in Manchuria.

The State Department said yesterday it had received no intimation of the commission's report and consequently could not judge the correctness of these rumors. It did not even know whether the report had been completed. Gen. Frank R. McCoy, the American member of the commission, is serving as private citizen, not as a representative of the United States.

MAJ. PARKER WINS STAFF PROMOTION

Former Local Cadet to Head Training Section in Field Artillery Branch.

Maj. Edwin P. Parker, jr., U. S. A., a Washington officer who received his first military training in the local high school cadet corps, has been promoted to head the training section in the office of the chief of Field Artillery, it was learned yesterday at the War Department.

Formerly assistant in this section, Maj. Parker will relieve Maj. J. L. Devers, prominent local polo player, who has been assigned to the War College.

A graduate of Western High School, Maj. Parker captained Company H of the Washington High School Cadets in 1909. He later attended George Washington University.

He entered the Army from civil life by examination in 1913. Maj. Parker attended the General Staff School at Fort Leavenworth, and also served in France and in the Panama Canal Zone.

Maj. Parker came to Washington in July, 1931, from the University of Oklahoma, where he had served as commandant of the Reserve Officers Training Corps. He lives at 1337 Thirtieth street northwest, and is the son of Edwin P. Parker, jr., local insurance man.

How to Be Beautiful

By ELSIE PIERCE

Movie Camera Makes Stars Appear Ten to Fifteen Pounds Heavier.

DO you feel that it is almost an impossible task to reduce a few pounds? Do you tip the scales well past your normal weight marker? If you have tried and tried in vain, remember the old saying and try again. Think of the screen stars who have to exercise regularly and diet rather strenuously in order to keep slender. The movie camera makes them appear 10 to 15 pounds heavier than they actually are! Which means that film luminaries usually must keep below their average weight. This does not mean that I advocate thinness to those of us who do not have to come before the movie camera. But I do feel that slenderness adds to a trim, lovely, feminine, dainty picture, whereas an excess always makes one think of overstuffed upholstery somehow.

Diet, Exercise and Ice.

One day at luncheon with Mollie Merrick, the well-known Hollywood columnist, Miss Merrick spoke about the stars and their simple, outdoor life. Every star has some outdoor hobby. It's surprising how many prefer walking, not just sauntering along, but a brisk, steady stride. That's when walking becomes the valuable exercise it is. Some screen stars hike for miles every day. Some swim, golf, play tennis. All do something and many indulge in several sports.

Miss Merrick also mentioned how important it is for the stars to keep fit. Their work is very strenuous. On the one hand they have to eat enough to sustain them and give them energy to carry them through a hard day's work on the set. Yet, they must not overeat or they run the risk of putting on weight. Some of the stars have to diet and exercise strenuously, some live on two meals a day, some avoid potatoes or bread, starches, desserts. A great many, however, are naturally thin, so they haven't the reducing problem.

One thing that proved very interesting to me, and I hope will be to you, too, is the fact that every star (both male and female) uses ice "to freeze the facial structure to firmness." One star during a picture uses ice four times during the day. Some authorities contend that ice is not good for the skin; that it causes little broken veins. Where these are already present, extremes in temperature should be avoided. But for the average skin, ice is nature's own astringent. Those of you who are reducing, should give your skin daily care to avoid flabbiness. Cleanse carefully, then apply skinfood or nourishing cream generously. Then rub on neck, under chin and all over face with a small piece of ice swathed in thin gauze. Do not hold the ice in one spot, but pass it quickly over face and neck several times.

Want to reduce? No time like the present. A safe and sane course is outlined in my reducing booklet. Send self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request.

Elsie Pierce, famous beauty lecturer, will answer any questions on beauty you wish to ask her. Address Miss Pierce, in care of The Washington Post, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Uncle Sam's Home Hints

TO REMOVE A FRESH STAIN

(Department of Agriculture.)

A freshly made, light stain can sometimes be removed by spreading an absorbent on the spot to blot up the staining substance. The absorbent can then be readily brushed off. Chalk, magnesium carbonate, fuller's earth, and corn meal are very good absorbents to try, as none of them can harm the fibers of the fabric. They can not be relied upon when the stain is set or very extensive.

To use the absorbent powders, says the Bureau of Home Economics of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, lay the stained fabric upon a flat surface and spread a layer of the absorbent over the stain. Work it around gently so as not to pull the fibers. As soon as it becomes gummy, shake or brush it off, and repeat the process until the bulk of the stain is removed. Then apply another layer of the absorbent and allow it to remain overnight, or longer if necessary. This removes all traces of the stain, and in the case of light stains the preliminary treatment is unnecessary. Then dust or brush off the absorbent thoroughly. If it is not convenient to let the stain stand overnight, place a layer of cloth or brown paper over the absorbent and apply a warm (not hot) iron for several minutes. In the case of stains made by solid fats, or wax, which must be melted before they can be absorbed, the use of the warm iron is necessary.

An absorbent is useful when writing ink is spilled on a rug or large garment, while the ink is still moist. Try cornmeal, salt, French chalk, fuller's earth or talcum powder, first dry, and then in a paste made with water. These absorbents can be tried for grease spots when it is undesirable to use soap and water. This treatment is effective only on spots of grease or oil unmixed with particles of dirt or metal. Blotting paper is recommended to absorb candle and other paraffin wax which has penetrated a fabric. The spot is placed between two blotters and a warm iron is passed over the top. After brushing a soot spot, try an absorbent. French chalk is sometimes very satisfactory to freshen temporarily a soiled white felt hat or white wool summer coat.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—You hear about velvet again and again. Now it is a "gaie" letter from Mamzelle with a rhapsodical paragraph about one velvet like a heavy crepe, that is much seen in the new collections. Another, she writes, is called "epingle" and is, as its name implies, a pin-head weave, small. And yet a lovelier velvet is called Afghan—and here Mamzelle, running true to family—I mean form—waxes rhapsodical about the name and forgets to describe the velvet!

Let me quote something cute: "Surely there can be no more depression when all is a conspiracy to make 'la femme' spend money—and you know, mon petit chat, what she will do to enslave man—or it is perhaps to encourage him!"

• • • •

Ardanse scores a hit in a lovely model for evening—with a short-sleeved coat to wear over the extreme decolletage of the gown in order to make it "Sunday night." She suggests black velvet with white coque feathers for trimming—and then shows the identical model in white velvet with black feather trimming.

• • • •

Fashion (able) French.

Above in Mamzelle's letter you find the word "gaie," which is pronounced just like our English "gay" and means the same thing. Also "la femme," which, of course, means women—all women—and is pronounced "fah-m." And "mon petit chat" is naughty-nice, a term of endearment, meaning "my little cat," and pronounced "mon pee-tee cha," making the last so[illegible] like the "a" in "father."

• • • •

Where, alack and indeed, is the depression? When Miladi Elegante nonchalantly orders two $400 silver foxes with which to oddly trim her autumn coat!

Yes, and she poses them cleverly, widening the shoulder silhouette with them, the better to accentuate her slender figger, I should say. Said slender figger has the black suede cloth coat held tightly around it, of course. Like eet? Oh, yes; a Dah-ray idea! I'm talking about today's sketch.

• • • •

I just looked an' looked for a really good leaflet idea for you this week—and I do think I found it! 'Tis my old, favorite, tried and true and perennially stylish pyjama, lounging pyjama! My very own, the one I wear, I mean—and always have worn and, seemingly, always will, for all it ever goes out of style or practicability.

The blouse is simply the most graceful and flattering and easily made thing you could imagine, besides easily washed and ironed and everything. And the pyjamas fit over the hips and flare gently yet decidedly to the cuffs, and are easily made, too, with my directions. All you have to do is send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Dare Department of The Washington Post for this leaflet and forever 'n' ever have a pyjama design that you can use.

Au revoir.

BIZARRE METHODS.

BRIDGE hands can be divided into types but it is impossible to subdivide these types, in such a manner as to allow for all possible exceptions. Bizarre methods of bidding may result in 1800-point penalties or they may be the only method possible of producing a game.

Mr. Edward Hymes, jr., one of the outstanding players of the younger generation and the inventor of a great many weird and unusual bids, recently held this hand in a Duplicate tournament and was the only player in the room who succeeded in making a game:

North—Dealer.
Neither side vulnerable.

The Bidding:

(Figures after bids in table refer to numbered explanatory paragraphs.)

North	East	South	West
1NT(1)	Pass	2◇(2)	Pass
2NT(3)	Pass	3♠(4)	Pass
3NT(5)	Pass	4♠(6)	Pass
4NT(7)	Pass	Pass	Pass

(1) Certainly a remarkable way of opening the bidding, but one which produced a very fine result.

(2) Two spades would have been better here.

(3) Continuing the psychic barrage—Mr. Hymes evidently wanted to play the hand in three notrump.

(4) Showing the second biddable suit.

(5) Mr. Hymes was now rather pleased with his proceeding and could see a very good chance of making the contract, as his partner had bid his two unguarded suits.

(6) South can hardly be blamed for misinterpreting the bid. However, he had previously trapped himself by bidding the diamonds before the spades.

(7) At this point Mr. Hymes could do nothing else.

The Opening lead was the fourth best heart, and Declarer undoubtedly breathed a sigh of relief when his Queen won the trick, as he was now able to take 7 club tricks and two side Aces, which, combined with the trick he obtained by the Opening lead, were enough to enable him to fulfill his contract.

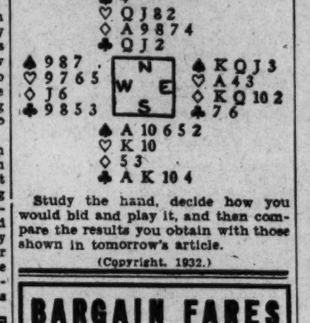

Of course, had a diamond been opened, the result would have been entirely different, but East can not be too severely criticized for opening a heart, as the bidding hardly indicated the presence of a seven-card set-up suit in the hand. It can easily be seen that had either the Ace or the King of hearts been placed in the West hand, the hand might have resulted in a set of 4 or 5 tricks, as Mr. Hymes held no reentry to his hand once the heart Queen was captured. At the other tables in the room where the hand was played, the bidding was in most cases rather normal, and where three notrump was reached, it was, in general, defeated by the diamond Opening. Five clubs, of course, can not be made as 2 heart tricks and 1 spade trick must be lost.

Today's Pointer.

Bridge players who habitually resort to unconventional methods in their bidding gain many tops. What they forget, however, are the many enormous penalties which come as a direct result of such bids.

Tomorrow's Hand.

The bidding and play of the hand printed below will be discussed tomorrow:

Study the hand, decide how you would bid and play it, and then compare the results you obtain with those shown in tomorrow's article.

What Today Means to You

By MARY BLAKE

"LEO."

IF August 17 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 12:30 p. m. to 3 p. m. and from 7:10 p. m. to 9:30 p. m. The danger periods are from 10 a. m. to 11:50 a. m. and from 4 p. m. to 6 p. m.

The stars, on August 17, foretell favorable influences that will stimulate thought and encourage effort. There will be in evidence a spirit of "go-get-itiveness" which will make the wheels move quickly in all lines of endeavor. Success will spring from some unexpected quarter, and optimism will make the clouds of depression roll away.

Children born on this August 17 are destined, according to the signs, to be exceptional rather than ordinary. They will possess much strength of character as well as an unconquerable spirit of independence. Never satisfied with mediocrity, they will struggle to attain the best, and this alone will place them ahead of their fellows.

You, if born on August 17, are prone to cry over spilt milk. You are ever visualising what might have been instead of living in, and making the most of, the present. You look back, instead of looking forward. Rather disposed to belittle trifles, your work shows small regard for details, and reveals slap-dash methods where meticulosity would prove more profitable. You resent drudgery in any form, and try only to do that which is suitable for exhibition purposes.

Your disposition is a variable one, although, on the whole, it is good. You are loyal to friends and sincere in all relationships. Your character is fairly strong, even though you possess little personality. You are, in your ideas, very conventional, and a tradition, once established, is sacred in your eyes. You lack both originality and spontaneity.

In your home life you are old-fashioned, and cling with a tenacity worthy of a better cause to mid-Victorian ideas. As a husband, you, in all confidence, subscribe to the belief that the male is superior and should be supreme. As a wife, you are docile and cling like ivy. Be you man or woman, you are due for a jolt that will make you realize that times move and all must move with them.

Successful people born on August 17:

Sidney Edgerton, congressman.
David Crocket, pioneer and soldier.
Manton Marble Carrick, sanitarian.
Michael A. Corrigan, archbishop of New York.
Laura de F. Gordon, lawyer.
Julia Marlowe (Taber), actress.

DEPENDABLE

Radical changes in the construction of heating units in these Modern Electric Ranges bring you heat as quickly as any other cooking method. The cleanliness of Electric Cookery does away with every particle of soot and smoke because you cook without flame. Only heat is used. Foods have much less shrinkage when cooked this modern way. It makes your food dollars go so much further... and because of the fact that the average family pays less than $3 per month for current you can readily judge for yourself that its economies are truly worth while.

Your electrical dealer will be glad to answer any questions about Electric Cookery and its superior advantages over other cooking methods. Ask him today.

GOD OF GOLD'S FALL IS CITED TO WOMEN

More than 60,000,000 persons in the United States are without a God because the god they worshiped—that of gold—has fallen, the Right Rev. William J. Hafey, Bishop of Raleigh, declared at a banquet last night of the national directorate of the Catholic Daughters of America, at the Mayflower Hotel.

Bishop Hafey estimated that these more than 60,000,000 are unaffiliated with any church. They are people in the higher strata of society—professional men and women and persons of wealth, he said.

"We do not have to bother about the masses," he said. "Their hearts are with God. It should be our mission to lead the classes, those who have fallen by the wayside since their god of gold collapsed three years ago, to the real God."

Bishop Hafey declared that the prevalence of birth control throughout the United States is proof positive of the economic collapse.

Miss Mary C. Duffy, supreme regent of the Catholic Daughters, deplored the wane of intelligence in the country. She said that the amount spent on relief work by the Catholic Daughters had grown from $45,000 to $100,000 in the past year. Paying tribute to the Knights of Columbus, she referred to Martin H. Carmody, the supreme knight of the organization, who was the guest of honor, as an able leader deserving the honor and respect of all Catholics.

Responding to Miss Duffy, Mr. Carmody declared that the Catholic women, through their work in interest of every form of usefulness, have proved themselves greater fighters than the men.

Miss Jennie B. Green, vice supreme regent, was toastmistress. Other speakers included Miss Mary C. Boland, grand regent, Court D. C. 212; Fred J. Rice, State deputy of the Knights of Columbus, Patrick J. Haltigan, K. K. S.; the Rev. Mgr. Hugh Monaghan, State chaplain of Maryland, and the Rev. Francis X. Cavanagh, chaplain of Court D. C. 212.

Bicentennial entertainment was given by George O'Connor, Louis Colangelo, Anne Marley and Agnes Whalen McLaughlin.

Miss Duffy will be the guest of honor of the Newspaper Women's Club at a luncheon today.

RITES FOR GEORGE W. SWIFT.

Burial for Former Manager of Brentano's Store Today in Glenwood.

Funeral services for George Warren Swift, who died Monday, will be held at 2 p. m. today from the residence, 737 Allison street northwest. Burial will be in Glenwood Cemetery.

Born here in 1882, Mr. Swift attended local schools and entered Brentano's book store in 1906 as a clerk. He was manager until his illness about a year ago. He is survived by the widow, Mrs. Imogene Clark Swift, and two sons, George Warren Swift, jr., and Gene Clark Swift. He was a member of several Masonic bodies and of the Junior Order American Mechanics.

DR. THOMAS VINCENT RITES.

A native of this city, Dr. Vincent was graduated from Georgetown Medical School and continued his practice here until less than a week ago, when he was taken ill. Until the death of his father, about 20 years ago, he lived at 1221 N street northwest. Since then he has made his home at 1730 M street northwest.

MRS. DEWITT COFFMAN DIES

Widow of Vice Admiral Will Be Buried in Annapolis.

Mrs. DeWitt Coffman, 80, widow of Vice Admiral Coffman, died yesterday at 7:30 a. m. at Newport, R. I., according to word received here.

Funeral services will be held at the Naval Cemetery, at Annapolis, at 10:30 a. m. Friday.

LONG ILLNESS FATAL TO MRS. J. LEO KOLB

Wife of Real Estate Dealer Expires at 49; Rites Set for Friday.

Mrs. Louise Kolb, wife of J. Leo Kolb, prominent Washington real estate operator, died last night at her home, 3003 O street northwest, following a protracted illness. She was 49 years old.

Mrs. Kolb was a life-long resident of the District. She was born in Georgetown. The greater part of her life was spent in social welfare and educational work in that community.

Long active in charity and educational work, Mrs. Kolb was at one time vice president of the board of directors of Trinity College. She was a member of the Catholic Daughters of America and was instrumental in organizing the Christ Child Society in Georgetown.

Her welfare interests included the Home for Incurables and the City Charities Association. She was a member of the board of Georgetown Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Kolb had been married for 25 years. Besides her husband she is survived by five children, Mary, J. Leo, jr., Staunton, John Gibbons and Pauline Kolb. She also leaves her father, Thomas J. Staunton, and a brother, J. Reilly Staunton.

Funeral services will be held at 9 a. m. Friday at Holy Trinity Church in Georgetown. Interment will be in Holy Rood Cemetery.

GAS BRAVERY TEST PUTS SOLDIER IN BED

Special to The Washington Post.

Camp Ritchie, Cascade, Md., Aug. 16.—One member of the District National Guard Regiment encamped here braved a demonstration of tear gas longer than any of the other soldiers today. His determination placed him in the camp infirmary for several hours.

The demonstration was staged following a lecture by Capt. John V. Lowe, Chemical Warfare Service officer of the Third Corps Area, before the 121st Engineers, District National Guard. Capt. Lowe said he would show how the seats of the small amphitheater could be cleared in short order.

The tear gas was loosed. As the wind carried the fumes across the theater, most of the regiment scattered. One man from Company B, Private Leonard Sisco, and about twenty from Company A, under command of Lieut. James R. Quade, remained in their seats, heads buried in handkerchiefs.

A second candle was ignited. Company A retreated. Private Sisco was left alone. Maj. Joseph J. Greenlow, medical officer, declared he was unable to move owing to a mild case of hysteria. He was taken to the infirmary and recovered a few hours later.

Chinese Legation Will Vie at Bridge

Diplomats to Enter Team in International Tourney in November.

The Chinese Legation will have a bridge team in the International Contract Bridge Tournament of the American Legion War Memorial next November, it was announced yesterday.

The team will be selected by Hawkling Yen, chairge d'affaires of the legation. This team will play against other diplomatic teams in Washington, as well as in the city tourney, and the final matches, if qualified, The Chinese Legation is the first official foreign diplomatic entry in the tournament.

The tournament is open to the public. The proceeds will be used to assist in entertainment of Gold Star mothers in France and for the assistance of disabled American veterans in France. A proportional part of the proceeds will be given to State governors of the 48 States to be donated by them to charitable organizations aiding the unemployed.

New Credit Union Rules For Capital Are Approved

Regulations governing the operation of credit unions in Washington were approved yesterday by the District Commissioners upon recommendation of Corporation Counsel William W. Bride and Herbert Davis, superintendent of insurance. Tentative uniform by-laws were also approved, but these will be transmitted to existing credit unions for suggestions and objections.

Under the new regulations every applicant for a license to operate a credit union must apply first to the District superintendent of insurance. If the application is approved as to form, it is then forwarded to the Comptroller of the Currency for investigation and report.

After this report is received by District authorities, the superintendent of insurance will recomemnd approval or disapproval of the application to the Commissioners.

Existing credit unions are allowed until September 1 to obtain a new license. A penalty of a fine of not more than $300 and imprisonment of not more than 90 days is provided for "any officer of a credit union in the District who shall fail to file any information required" by the act or regulations drafted thereunder.

RITES FOR MRS. DANFORTH

Mother of Brig. Gen. Danforth Will be Buried in Glenwood Today.

Repair of Homes Urged as Job Aid

F. M. Feiker Says Such Work Would Give Labor $3,500,000,000.

(Associated Press.)

Urging Americans to repair their homes and commercial and industrial buildings, Frederick M. Feiker, director of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, yesterday said $3,500,000,000 would go to the unemployed in wages if this improvement work is speeded up.

Feiker promised the full cooperation of the national committee on reconditioning, remodeling and modernizing in a Nation-wide campaign to accomplish the purpose.

He said the construction industry offered an important road to more buying and more employment and that one person in every ten gets his livelihood from the industry. Of every dollar spent on improvement and repair, he added, 70 cents goes to local labor.

Feiker said in the neighborhood of $5,000,000,000 worth of repairs are needed to keep existing structures in good condition.

1314 F STREET N. W.

NOW

A NEW OIL BURNER FOR TIMES LIKE THESE

. . . that will save the home owners of America millions of dollars a year in heating costs

To Housewives who care for their homes

Your vacuum cleaner is a wonderful labor saver. You couldn't get along without it. Yet YOU have to work it. Over and over the rugs. Then dusting. Less work, but still WORK!

Your electric washer saves many a backache, speeds up the task . . . but YOU still have to work it. Sort the clothes, drop them in, wring and hang them out. Easier, but still WORK!

Your electric iron is one of the greatest conveniences you have. A boon to women on hot summer days. But it does not do away with ironing. That is still YOUR job.

Your new electric refrigerator is perhaps your proudest possession. Beautiful, automatic, healthful. But even this modern appliance merely helps in the preparation of meals . . . it eliminates nothing. It was not designed to relieve you of work.

NOW Consider this, please:

When your oil burner is installed, the most disagreeable, unescapable, aggravating household task is ENDED! And it puts a stop to the very cause of most of your daily chores . . . dust and dirt from the basement. It actually lightens the very housework for which your other devices were bought.

You use your vacuum cleaner less. You can skip dusting for days. Your white curtains stay white longer. You do less washing and ironing. Spring housecleaning fades into the past. The drudgery of a lifetime of washing and cleaning doesn't compare with one season's labor of tending the furnace.

Oil heat reduces the cost of heating your home: in lower fuel cost, elimination of the furnace man and ash removal charges. In less redecorating and dry cleaning. In better health for your family.

And in addition—oil heat eliminates more work than all other household labor-saving devices combined! You don't even have to touch your oil burner. Not even turn it on or off. It's completely automatic.

Copyrighted 1932, Petroleum Heat & Power Co.

It had to come! A different kind of oil burner. One built especially for times like these . . . TO SAVE MONEY . . . as well as to keep your house at an even temperature automatically, all season long.

Built by the Originators of Automatic Oil Heat

It was a job for Petro & Nokol engineers to solve. They originated automatic oil heat. They had the background of 29 years' experience in oil heating exclusively. Besides providing automatic oil heat to more than a half million people from coast to coast, their burners are heating some of the world's largest buildings . . . and saving them hundreds of thousands of dollars in heating costs.

A Giant Reduced to Junior Size

Here was the clue. Reduce these money-saving giants to junior size. Keep the same principle, every important detail of design. Build a home size burner with the same precision as the giant Petros used in installations costing as high as $55,000. Build it to give the same economy and reliability . . . and at a price that any one can afford.

IF YOU NEED A NEW BOILER

For about the price of a comparable boiler alone, you can have a specially designed Petro Boiler AND the famous Petro Oil Burner built in one beautiful, self-contained, automatic unit. . . the first ever produced and the greatest advance in the history of home heating. It has proved these facts in use over a period of several years in homes all over the U. S. and Canada under all kinds of conditions, using all kinds of domestic heating oils. Its amazing efficiency reduces heating costs by ½ to ⅓, and provides an abundance of domestic hot water summer and winter at a lower cost than any other automatic system. Designed for either oil or gas. Finished in enamel of modern, attractive pastel shades. Listed as standard by the Underwriters' Laboratories and approved for installation by all the principal official bureaus.

Heats 5 to 15 Rooms

And here's the result. This new Petro & Nokol burns ALL grades of domestic fuel oil, even the cheapest, with a soft, quiet, clean, radiant flame . . . and will take care of any heating load from a 5 to a 15 room house! It has but one moving part—and with such utter simplicity you are assured of uninterrupted automatic heat in your house year after year.

Lowest Prices in History As Long as 5 Years to Pay

The price? That's the best news of all. This burner is offered now at a special introductory price . . . the lowest ever placed on any Petro or Nokol listed by the Underwriters' Laboratories to burn No. 3 oil . . . the cheapest residence fuel oil. Under our National Public Service Plan, small monthly payments may be extended over terms as long as 5 years. These same payments automatically provide complete service, all new parts, repairs and labor.

Save on Domestic Hot Water, Too

This same burner in your present heating plant with a special Petro & Nokol heating unit, gives you all the hot water you need, for kitchen and bath . . . summer and winter . . . at a lower cost than any other automatic system. Your local Petro & Nokol dealer has it on display.

UNDIVIDED RESPONSIBILITY
We supply our own oil in our own trucks from our own oil terminals.

NATIONAL PUBLIC SERVICE PLAN

Small monthly payments on this new Petro & Nokol may be extended over terms as long as 5 years. Nothing else to pay. We guarantee to assume the cost of service, repairs, new parts and labor. Let us tell you about it.

AMERICA STRIKES.

After having obtained legislation from Congress which mobilizes the powers of the Government in new directions and upon an unprecedented scale, President Hoover is now calling in the leaders of industry, finance, transportation, and agriculture to meet with the Federal officers in charge of the new Government agencies, in order to combine public and private forces in a concerted attack upon the depression along the whole national front.

The Government agencies are equipped with abundant financial resources and legal powers. Private enterprise possesses special knowledge, initiative, and an immense trained personnel. The sessions beginning on Aug. 26 will represent, in effect, Uncle Sam militant, coming with unlimited power to confer with his "boys;" and about him will be the "boys," bringing special knowledge and experience from every section of the country and every branch of enterprise.

Uncle Sam alone can not go into every business and start the wheels turning. Business can not start without the help of Uncle Sam. But when they join forces, the wheels turn. The Government has power, but must have detailed information as to how to apply this power. Industry has the information, but needs power. The conference will bring power and knowledge together, so that there will be no delay in applying the power intelligently where it is needed.

The scope of the conference will be as broad as the sweep of the depression itself. In the words of the President, the conference will make "a canvass of the means, methods, agencies and powers available in the country for general advancement." Industries and business which can give assurance of consumption of their goods will be stimulated by the expansion of credit facilities. Financial facilities will be provided for moving goods into consumption. Live stock and agricultural credit will be augmented. Programs for repairs and maintenance of railways will be expanded, and credit granted. Throughout all these avenues of activity means will be provided for the increase of employment.

The depression which has afflicted the United States has been nonpartisan and nonpolitical. It has wrought havoc in all parts of the country and among all citizens. In devising the war strategy for attacking and overthrowing this national enemy President Hoover has necessarily been the leader. Any one occupying the Presidency would have performed this duty. Congress, one branch Democratic and the other Republican, co-operated with the President without partisanship in enacting the program into law. The victory over depression will benefit Democrats as much as Republicans. The Republican President has fought for the welfare of Democrats as well as Republicans, without distinction of party or section. The leaders who are about to confer with him are gathering as Americans, not as Democrats or Republicans.

During the late war all Americans stood behind their President, without thought of politics. During this war against depression all Americans worth while will stand behind their President, without thought of politics. It is a splendid and inspiring sight to see stalwart citizens from every part of the United States rallying to the call of their President, preparing to join hands in battle against the universal enemy. The energies and powers that are now assembling, consolidating authority of law with individual knowledge and initiative, can and will concentrate in one irresistible force the strength of the United States. Americans have determined to put an end to a depression that made headway because of their lack of teamwork. They have found a way to amass their strength in a single national army. It will deliver the conquering blow.

TAX REVISION.

Early revision of the tax law which Congress enacted at its last session may be expected. As it was finally approved the new tax measure was satisfactory to no one. It had become a conglomeration of uncoordinated levies placed wherever Congress thought there was a possibility of obtaining revenue. No prophetic vision is required to see that early changes will be advisable.

President Hoover intimated in his acceptance address that he will ask Cnogress at its next session to reexamine the revenue act with a view to ironing out the inequities. Senator Smoot, chairman of the Senate finance committee which framed the measure, has announced that its results will be carefully checked this fall. Apparently he is ready to sponsor a general manufacturers' sales tax if the operation of the existing measure is unsatisfactory. The outcome will probably depend upon the results of the special excise taxes in the meantime.

Enactment of a sound revenue measure at the last session of Congress was extremely difficult. In the early part of the fight the House carelessly rejected the manufacturers' sales tax and made the imposition of many excise taxes inevitable. It is improbable that the House would repeat this performance in the light of subsequent experience.

In place of a general levy upon all manufacturing enterprise, a few industries were heavily taxed. They find it extremely difficult to march against the depression in such circumstances. A more even distribution of the tax load, excluding levies on foodstuffs, essential clothing, farm implements, &c., would enable business to gain faster and on a more uniform basis.

But the obvious logic behind the manufacturers' excise tax did not become convincing on Capitol Hill until the House had already revolted against its leaders. By the time the Senate concluded discussion of the tax bill it was generally recognized that a sales tax was the most advantageous way out of the dilemma. But Senate leaders did not dare to sponsor such a levy because public confidence was at a low ebb and they feared that if the House should again reject the sales tax the financial stability of the Government would be called into question. There was nothing to do but to pass the tax bill as it was and trust the erasure of inequities to the next Congress.

The taxation committee of the United States Chamber of Commerce is also making a study of the new revenue law and its effects upon business. Doubtless it will have recommendations to make next December. Congress will then have the advantage of expert advice and the actual results of the law to guide it in making adjustments.

It is unfortunate that there must be fresh tinkering with the tax laws at a time when business is expected to be accelerating its pace toward recovery. But the handicaps imposed on business by the present law may prove to be more detrimental than a reopening of the tax question. If it is distinctly understood that the financial situation of the Government does not warrant any reduction of existing levies, Congress may be able to place the taxation burden upon a more general basis without seriously disturbing economic recovery.

WHY LOOK ABROAD?

Before the Institute of Politics at Williamstown Henry Kittredge Norton, world traveler and writer upon economic and financial subjects, expounded from his wide knowledge of affairs in other lands—a subject frequently treated in these columns—the super-advantages of the great American home market. Increased profits can be gained in the United States, he says, and the standard of living still further raised, when it is realized that American products can best be disposed of among our own people.

International political and economic solidarity, Mr. Norton claims, is not the "way out" for the United States, but rather through a more intensive cultivation of our own portion of the world, a field which promises rewards far greater than those to be reluctantly wrung from international competition.

Foreign business is always secured at greater cost than in the home market. Competition often requires a lowering of prices. Shipping costs, compliance with customs regulations of many differing kinds, investigation of national requirements, doing business in various foreign languages, credit and exchange difficulties all combine to cut down profits to be realized from business abroad. On the other hand there is hardly a single business in the export trade that, if it would devote the same attention, talent and outlay to increasing American business, would not realize better net returns.

At the peak, American exports amounted to $5,000,000,000 a year. If a 10 per cent profit resulted it would have amounted to $500,000,000, not a vital matter in a national income of $90,000,000,000. A point that might well be considered today is the greater importance of export trade when everything was running at full capacity as compared with the present, when production has been cut in two. That $5,000,000,000 may readily have been more necessary three years ago for the absorption of excess output than the export margin is today, when factories are scaled down to consumption needs. Industry in the United States is in a very different physical condition from that of 1929. Expenses of every kind have been reduced so that, far from facing the necessity of having to resume business of boom-time proportions, a 10 per cent increase in many cases will see the beginning of profitable operation.

This, then, is the situation: If export trade has been cut in half or more, the same thing has happened in the home markets. Now, with reviving operations, and the rebuilding of business, what are the chances of regaining business from the $3,000,000,000 of lost exports in comparison with the $30,000,000,000 to be recovered in the markets of the United States? American business is gaining gradually. The same can not be said in Europe, Asia or South America. There is little hope of any general improvement in Europe while the German political situation remains so uncertain. American producers can well afford to turn their attention to the market at their door, which is so many times greater than all others combined at their best.

A SECOND LINDBERGH SON.

World-wide felicitations will be showered upon Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh upon the arrival of a son. Just as universal sympathy was expressed for the brave mother and father during their many weeks of agony, now as generally will the trust be cherished that the second son may help to assuage in some measure the suffering caused by the loss of their first born.

Never in history was the compassion of the world so stirred by longings for the safe return of an infant. The prayers of every nation were offered that the Lindbergh child might be restored unharmed. The long and unavailing search was followed by expectant multitudes everywhere, who hoped against hope for a fortunate outcome of the efforts to find the child. No less intense was the general horror and sense of outrage when it became known that fiends devoid of human compassion had murdered the child so soon after it had been kidnaped, and that the days and weeks of agonized search and helpless waiting had been needlessly prolonged torture to the expectant mother.

Col. and Mrs. Lindbergh will find joy in their new son, and will take up once more the routine of life. Heartfelt messages of rejoicing from millions will go out to Mrs. Lindbergh, carrying genuine feelings of thankfulness that the tragedy of her first born will now be somewhat mitigated by love and care for the second. Congratulations and best wishes from all the world will go out to Charles and Anne Lindbergh, and if many are unexpressed they will be none the less sincere.

If Theodore Roosevelt, jr., leaves his post as Governor of the Philippine Islands to campaign for President Hoover, it is safe to say that a few million voters will be perplexed to see the elephant and rooster in separate circles on election day.

BABIES

From the Minneapolis Journal.

There are fewer inhabitants of the United States under 1 year of age in proportion to population than in 1920, and fewer actually than there were half a decade before the 1930 census. Birth rates are falling off in the United States, though not as much as they have fallen in some European countries, notably France.

And yet— Observe the girls who may be the mothers of tomorrow! Contemplate the manifestation of maternal regard in young women who are readily entranced by the ways of a little child!

Over at the University Farm, lately, two groups of girls completed courses in home economics by living and maintaining "management houses" on the edge of the Farm campus. Eight or ten girls lived in each house, and performed in rotation every activity essential to the menage. They cooked and cleaned and kept order; they worked out budgets and lived within them; they were the whole moving force that made the houses going concerns.

And along with these duties they mothered a baby in each house, an orphan child that otherwise would be placed in some permanent home. The whole household revolved about that baby. Its care day and night fell in rotation to one after another of the girls, but all were spontaneously engrossed in its welfare. Let an ordinary interruption come at dinner, and it would be passed off as in any normal home. But let that baby stir sufficiently to make any sound, and the "rotation mother" was up from her seat at table in an instant, concerned exclusively in the cause of the sound.

Most of these girls, perhaps all of them, professed with sincerity an aim fostered by school training, such as institutional management, dietitian's work, teaching "home economics" and the like. Some admitted a purpose of learning what business life did not afford. But down under the surface of everything was that baby, enshrined in the heartful hope of every girl.

There are fads and frills in most curricula. Maybe home economics is one, though it does not figure largely below high schools. The defects of this particular frill lie partly in its limited scope under present programs, and perhaps it is not a practical course for all. But, at least, it reveals a trait of womankind that may be balanced against the statistics of population trends. Motherhood is still in the dreams of the future for such girls as these.

"Garner in tears over whispers that he is a handicap to the ticket." Such an emotional exhibition from this bronzed son of the tempestuous West should settle the question with New York.

The Speaker might now adopt as a theme song of his own: "Crying Out Loud About Whispers."

Rather than being so upset by still, small voices, the Democratic vice presidential candidate might better be giving non-lachrymose answer to some of the megaphone and loudspeaker criticism of his House leadership.

Characterization of the combination of Democratic running-mates, the kid-gloved aristocrat of Hyde Park and the horny-handed Texan, as complementary, must be considered complimentary.

A third "army" is being formed in Ireland to preserve order. It is not hard to foresee that the Green, White and Red forces will soon make fighting the order of the day.

If Gen. Kurt von Schleicher is made chancellor of Germany he can be depended on to use his first name in dismissing all who interfere with his dictatorship.

Mayor Walker's attempt to draw a Curtin over his private finances did not conform to Gov. Roosevelt's idea of a complete show-down.

Any Spanish linguist will admit that naming Senor Mejorada by Mexico will result in an improved ambassador without the least reflection upon the able Dr. Puig Casauranc.

Troubles that come singly can be endured, but consider Chinese provinces that have been in turn visited by floods, famine, banditry and cholera, and now ravaged by locusts that have consumed all remaining crops.

"Cheer in business growing broader." It must have reached Boston.

Speaker Garner assures Eastern capitalists he is not radical, just that "I do not believe money and property should be in the hands of a few." Something must be done to the 60,000,000 grasping Americans with bank deposits and the 15,000,000 property owners.

Herr Hitler demands the power of a Fascist Mussolini so that he can put into effect his Communist ideas.

If the Republican committee put that ten billions into the stock market rise there seems very little excuse for the present pretense of having the same difficulty in securing campaign funds as the Democrats.

It may explain some of the differences in popularity between the Farm Board and the R. F. C. that the F. B. has reached the stage of collecting loans as crops are marketed.

If barter and trade are not looking up a bit as we apprehend they should be apprehended for false pretenses.

A LITTLE CANDLE.

Practical Christianity is so precious a quality that when Mr. and Mrs. James Hennum, of Sloan, Iowa, decided to forgive their debtors, the telegraph wires carried the news to every part of the country. The Hennums own a general store, according to the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, and several hundred customers had run up bills aggregating $75,000, so the Hennums went into executive session and decided on a policy of debt cancellation because "this depression has been hitting some folks pretty hard."

Advance Knowledge Can Profit You Nothing if You Wait to See if It Is True

By ROBERT QUILLEN

BEFORE the invention of printing, the only teachers of history were ancient men who remembered well. An old man's wisdom was valued, for it was the product of long experience. If an eclipse terrorized his people, he could give them assurance of safety. He had seen others like it, none of them fatal.

Now the counsel of old men is again respected. They have lived through several depressions. They can testify, of their own knowledge, that hard times always come to an end.

People fear the unknown, which means that fear is a product of ignorance. Those who fear most are the ones who know least. Thus the unlettered, the boy financiers and people with short memories regard present conditions as hopeless because they are ignorant of the fact that other and worse depressions invariably gave way to seasons of unprecedented prosperity.

Worse depressions? Precisely that. Graybeards can remember one that was world-wide, as this one is. Armed men raided stores and warehouses to get food for their starving families. Paper money was almost worthless. Every bank in America, except seven, closed its doors. Yet that one ended, as all things do, and wise men who knew it would end garnered a great harvest from seed planted in the midst of it.

Do you wonder how? Well, suppose you could read the future. Suppose you knew, beyond any possibility of doubt, that good times would be here next year. What would you do?

If you and you alone knew that "wild-catters" had struck oil ten miles from town and were choking the well, what would you do then? You would follow their example. You would pawn your shirt and use every cent you could borrow to buy options on land near the well or lease mineral rights.

Isn't that true? Then if you had secret knowledge that good times would return next year or next month, wouldn't you find a way to make that knowledge profitable?

Why, then, do you hesitate? You have the knowledge. Others won't believe it, but history assures you that high prices and good markets will come back. This is your long-awaited chance to profit by advance knowledge of a melon-cutting.

Rothschild made his first "easy money" by knowing the result of Waterloo many hours before the official news reached the markets of London.

The chief task of the next Congress is the drastic reduction of Federal expenditure and its corollary, the reduction of the Federal tax burden. There will be no illusions as to the difficulty of this task in the mind of any one who has observed the workings of our politics. Almost every cut will be resisted, most of them plausibly, and as to many of the most substantial and expedient the resistance will be powerfully supported by organized, if minority, sentiment. The influences which have gradually built up Federal agencies, and, in a staggering total, Federal expenditures, will fight for their retention, and there can be no doubt that they will largely prevail unless the demand for economy has been organized and concentrated to the limit of political efficiency.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Virginian Wants Answer to Several Questions Raised by Hoover's Stand on Liquor Problem.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Now that you have heard from the highbrows and the bigwigs concerning President Hoover's acceptance speech, perhaps you would not mind knowing what the man in the street thinks about it.

We "listened in" and we have read. On the economic issues and other issues, save one, Mr. Hoover rose to the heights of genuine statesmanship. When he came to the question of prohibition he plunged to the depths of demagoguery. It was a terrible flop.

Now, Mr. Editor, this writer is not a rabid dry. But he is a dry. Like thousands of others there are some things he would like to have cleared up. The Post is the best paper I have found in this part of the country. We read it very carefully, especially the editorials. You will have a chance to make clear some things that need to be cleared up. And more minds are open to reason than some people imagine.

1. Show us that the dry element that put Mr. Hoover over four years ago with a bang—giving him some Southern States—has not been double-crossed

2. Show us that Mr. Hoover's change of base is from principle and not from political expediency. ("I would rather be right than be President."—Clay.)

3. Show us how the high welfare of this country can best be promoted half dry and half wet. ("This country can not long exist half slave and half free."—Abe Lincoln.)

Has this Lincoln philosophy failed?

4. Hoover's plan is to safeguard the dry States from the wet States. Perhaps you can make it plain. How?

5. Perhaps you can settle one big question: How can we have booze without the evils that always go with booze?

6. Perhaps you can tell us why every lowdown, godless, lawless element in all creation is wet and down on the eighteenth amendment. And if it is to our advantage as a nation to surrender to this element rather than to suppress it.

7. If there is difficulty in enforcing the law, which is to blame, the law or the likker? Tell us. Show us.

Now, Mr. Editor, we are not quibbling. Some of us think that the likker evil, as all evil, rises out of human depravity. And likker is motivated by greed. Elimiate greed and the whole question would fall as flat as a pancake, regardless of appetite. This writer denies flatly that there ever has been any demand on the part of the people as such for a change. It has been prompted by the greed of those who hope to profit. Money is back of the whole propaganda. Tell us if we are right or wrong. You've got a job "lucidatin." Thank you.

From page two, fourth section, August 14:

"Science of chess-problem solving can in a few generations enable the United States to save billions of dollars, as it is the only science that can analogically demonstrate to our statesmen and our millions of students that in order to correctly solve any civilization problem whatever, its relevant syllogistic middle term must be frankly and methodically sought by native sagacity or by native genius or by their perfect logically acquirable equivalent, namely, systematic adequate reverification of premises."

Don't bother to send thanks.

Thinks Saloon Will Return, and Sees No Objection to It.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: At the risk of being the only letter writer in the United States to take that stand, I fail to see that there is any good practical objection to restoring the saloon in case the voters see fit to restore the flow of liquor. If liquor is restored, the saloon in some shape will be sure to follow, and, as a means for the safeguarding of public morals if the wets win, I believe the "licensed" saloon will be necessary. Regulation of the saloon will be of great importance among other regulations of the liquor traffic with the return of John Barlyscorn.

THE FARM HAND.

I watched him in the blazing field,
Harrowing for September's yield,
A rugged lad in denim jeans,
A subject fit for pastoral scenes,
Which would have caught the eager eye
Of any artist passing by.
No mercy showed the blazing sun.
I watched the heat waves roll and run
Across the land, baked hard and brown,
And wondered if fine folks in town,
Who smile above their evening's bread,
Have any notion how they're fed.
So white and delicate and fair
It comes to table everywhere
That only farming people know
What suffering brings the wheat to grow,
And only country boys can tell
The toil that makes the soil do well.
Next winter when I sit to dine
Where silverware and glasses shine
And bread is passed, in fancy I
Will see, beneath a cloudless sky,
That boy enduring cruel heat
All day within a field of wheat.

Secretary Stimson On Vacation Till After Labor Day

THE SECRETARY OF STATE AND MRS. HENRY L. STIMSON will not return to the Capital until after Labor Day. After spending the week-end at their Long Island residence they went to Lake Placid, N. Y., where they will spend the rest of the summer.

The Ambassador of Spain, Senor de Cardenas, entertained informally at luncheon yesterday in honor of the British Ambassador to Chile, Sir Henry Getty Chilton, who is spending a short time in Washington en route to his post from a vacation in England.

The Governor of North Dakota, Mr. George F. Shafer, is at the Willard Hotel.

Mrs. Taft to Entertain Kin at Murray Bay.

Mrs. William Howard Taft will have as her guests in her summer home on Murray Bay, Canada, her daughter-in-law and grandchildren, Mrs. Charles P. Taft 2d, and her daughters, Sylvia and Lucia, of Cincinnati. Mrs. Taft 2d and her young daughter, who are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Hall Chase, at Narragansett Pier, will leave there tomorrow for Canada.

Col. and Mrs. William P. Upshur, who have recently arrived in Washington from Newport, have taken an apartment at the Wyoming, 2022 Columbia road. Col. Upshur has been ordered to attend the next course at the Army War College.

Mrs. Joseph Leiter will leave shortly for an extended visit in the cottage colony at Hot Springs, Va. She will be accompanied by her daughter, Miss Nancy Leiter, and her niece, Miss Audrey Campbell, and will be joined there by her mother, Mrs. John R. Williams, of this city.

Mrs. Delos A. Blodgett has with her at her summer home on Mackinac Island her sisters, Mrs. Charles G. Matthews and Mrs. Edwin Porcher, who have been motoring in Canada.

Miss Marion Trumbull will sail for this country this week from Europe, where she has been for some time. She will return on the George Washington. She was recently the guest of the United States Ambassador to Germany and Mrs. Frederic H. Sackett at the embassy in Berlin, and is now the guest of the First Secretary of the American Embassy in Paris and Mrs. Robert Scotten.

The Mayor of Salisbury, England, J. Sidney Rambridge, entertained informally at dinner on the roof of the Willard yesterday. The mayor and his party, consisting of his brother, Frank Rambridge, and Mr. Alfred Batt, president of the Chamber of Commerce of Salisbury, left yesterday for New York and will sail for England on the S. S. Berengaria.

Dr. and Mrs. Oscar D. Hunter will entertain at a supper party this evening aboard their yacht, the Decoy, cruising on the Potomac. The company, which will number 30, will include the directors of the Washington Medical Building and their wives and the directors of the Columbia Medical Building and their wives.

Poindexter—Mitchell Wedding August 25.

The marriage of Miss Yvonne Mitchell, of Denver, Colo., to Lieut. Comdr. Gale Poindexter, naval aid at the White House and son of former Senator Miles Poindexter and the late Mrs. Poindexter, will take place in Washington, Thursday, August 25.

Miss Mitchell will arrive in the Capital Sunday to be the guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Commander and Mrs. Leland D. Webb. It was on a former visit to Commander and Mrs. Webb that Miss Mitchell met Commander Poindexter.

Miss Mitchell is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William C. Mitchell.

Commander Poindexter was born in Walla Walla, Wash. In 1913 he was appointed to the Naval Academy from the State of Washington. During the World War he served on the battleship Pennsylvania and with the American destroyer force based at Queenstown, Ireland.

Mrs. Sterling L. Larabee, of Warrenton, Va., and Washington, is spending a few days in New York.

Mrs. Jane A. Story and her daughter, Miss Jacqueline Story, have arrived at the Saranac Inn, Upper Saranac Lake, N. Y., to join the former's mother, Mrs. William Stone Abert, who is spending the summer there. Mrs. Story and Miss Story will be there for several days.

Miss Bertha Floy Mather, daughter of Mrs. Stephen Tyng Mather, of Darien, Conn., and of Chicago, and the late Mr. Mather, organizer and first director of the National Park System, was married to Edward Reynolds McPherson, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Reynolds McPherson, of Harrisburg, Pa., yesterday, at the old Revolutionary home of the Mather family in Darien. Only relatives and close friends were present at the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. Clarence C. Silvester, a cousin of the bride and rector of St. Michael's Episcopal Church at Brattleboro, Vt.

Miss Van Buren to Wed Spencer Brownell, Jr.

The marriage of Miss Nancy Elizabeth Van Buren, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. William R. Van Buren, to Mr. Spencer Brownell, jr., of Wilmington, Del., will take place on Thursday, September 1. The ceremony will take place at St. Alban's Episcopal Church, at 8:30 o'clock, the Rev. Charles T. Warner officiating.

Miss Elsie Collier, of Norfolk, Va., will be maid of honor, and the bridesmaids will include Miss Suzan Steck, of Winchester, Va.; Miss Mary Bruce Mackall, of Washington; Miss Helen Van Orsdel, of Albany; Miss Hilda de Camp, of Utica, N. Y.; Miss Margaret Griffith, of Fort Slocum, N. Y.; Miss Marjorie Stevens, of Rutherford, N. J., and Miss Roslyn Lockwood, of Rochester, N. Y.

Miss Mackall will be hostess at a luncheon Wednesday, August 31, in compliment to Miss Van Buren, and on the day of the wedding Capt. and Mrs. Brantz Mayer will entertain at luncheon for the bride and Mr. Brownell and the wedding party.

Miss Van Buren has just completed her junior year at Mt. Holyoke College.

Mr. Brownell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Brownell, of Oswego, N. Y.

Mr. Robert V. Fleming, accompanied by Mrs. Fleming and Miss Alice Fleming, arrived at the Essex and Sussex Hotel, Spring Lake, N. J., yesterday, for the balance of the season. Other Washingtonians who have recently arrived for visits in Spring Lake are Mrs. J. W. McCarty, who is stopping at the Monmouth, and M. Kimura, Military Attache at the Japanese Embassy.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Tumulty are occupying their summer home there, as also Capt. E. C. Fleming, Military Attache at Buenos Aires, and Mrs. Fleming.

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Fowler entertained at dinner Monday evening in honor of Mr. T. Coleman Andrews, of Richmond, Va. Their guests numbered ten.

Members of the diplomatic staff of the Egyptian Legation and other Mediterranean countries will be the guests of honor at the "Night in Cairo," to be celebrated on the Shoreham terrace tomorrow evening. Oriental melodies will figure in the program of dance music to be presented.

Mr. and Mrs. John Morgan Conley, of Atlanta, announce the engagement of their daughter, Agnes Rachael, to Mr. Charles Bennett Quade, of Washington and River Springs, Md. The marriage will be solemnized at the Inman Park Methodist Church, Atlanta, Ga., September 14, at 6 o'clock.

Mr. Bernard Dietz has recalled invitations to a house party at his summer camp on West River, Md., owing to the illness of his mother.

How to Keep Well

By DR. W. A. EVANS

COOLED AIR IN HOT WEATHER.

THE movement for cooling of living places and workshops is growing with considerable rapidity. At first, only a few places were cooled in hot weather, and these served only a small section of the population, and for brief periods. The restaurants were one of the first groups to take it up. When the air in a restaurant is hot people lose their appetites. Either they will not eat at all or else they limit themselves to cold drinks and salads.

The restaurants first tried to meet this situation by setting their tables in gardens, under trees, or on the sidewalks under awnings. Wherever in America there is much persistence of German influence garden restaurants are to be seen, whereas tables on the sidewalks give evidence of French and Italian influence. But there are limitations to such opportunities in American cities, and a way had to be found to get customers to eat meats and fats and heavier meals in hot weather. Some restaurants solved the problem by air conditioning.

The theaters found air cooling good for their business. The people were much more liable to while away an hour or two in a movie if the air there were cool. The theaters made a mistake by cooling the air to 70 degrees, or, at any rate, making it too cool. When people are dressed for very hot weather they are uncomfortable when in an atmosphere that is 25 to 30 degrees below that for which they are dressed. The theaters would have done better had they held the air at 10 degrees, or thereabouts, below the outside temperatures.

Probably the next group to take up cooling were the railroads. They installed it in dining cars, to the great satisfaction of their customers. Cooled air in dining cars must have added a few cents to the average check. The disadvantage of the plan was that the dining car conductors found the customers tended to linger too long at the tables. The remedy consisted in cooling the club cars and chair cars. Sleeping cars followed.

Before long we expect efficiency engineers will be submitting estimates that show employers the loss in output in a factory during hot weather, the increase in summer production that could be expected to result from air cooling and the net gain after subtracting cost of installation and upkeep of refrigerating apparatus from increased income because of increase of production. About that time managers of office buildings will offer space for offices in cooled buildings, arguing that employes in such offices will do more work and make fewer errors.

Finally, the demand for cool air will extend to housewives. The cooks should be given a vote on this question. It is to be hoped that by that time we will all understand that in hot weather air should not be cooled to 70 degrees. The proper objective should be ten to fifteen degrees below the temperature of air as registered in shady places.

CAUSE OF BOILS.

L. E. writes: What causes boils?

REPLY.

Boils result from infection of the deeper parts of the skin and the tissues just below. The infecting microbe is staphylococcus. Among the contributing causes of boils are diabetes, eating too much sugar and starch, lack of cleanliness of the skin, dirty grease on the skin, local irritation from any cause, blackheads.

PROBABLY ARTHRITIS.

S. S. writes: What causes the hands of a person, apparently well at the age of 50, to become lame? They do not ache, but are hard to close. The knees feel lame when rising. She works in the house part of the time and in the garden also.

REPLY.

The probability is that there is a mild arthritis affecting especially the hands and knees.

Smart New Frocks
Especially Designed for Your Hard-to-Fit Daughters

Sizes from 7½ to 16½

What a boon to mothers, and their young daughters—to find these new wash frocks designed (through simple, smartly belted lines—greater breadth—more fullness, shorter skirts, where needed—deep hems) to answer this problem of smartly dressing—with as little alteration as possible—these well-developed, hard-to-fit, younger girls. Some of the smaller sizes have bloomers—and every frock has a chic little touch of white or contrasting color to add to its chic.

GIRLS' FROCKS, FOURTH FLOOR

THE ONCE OVER

By H. I. PHILLIPS

HOME, SWEET HOME, AFTER A MARKET RISE.

HE—Well, did you see what they did today?

She—What w' did today?

He— (with an I-told-you-so-air)—The stock market. Everything went up 10 points again.

She—Well, what of it?

He—If I'd have gone in when I wanted to we would have made a nice little pile.

She—Well, why didn't you go in when you wanted to?

He (quite accusingly)—I just didn't want to go against your judgment, that's all.

She—Oh, now don't go all over that again. If you thought the market was cheap why didn't you go in? You're boss of your own money.

He—That's all right about a man being boss of his money, but a feller doesn't like to go ahead and take a chance in the stock market when his wife is constantly telling him she thinks it poor judgment.

She—There you go trying to blame me because you didn't have gumption enough to buy stocks when you thought they were a bargain! Tst! Tst! Tst! Tst!

* * * *

HE—I'm not blaming anybody. I'm just saying that I would have been in if it hadn't been for you always arguing against the risk.

She—Did I tell you not to go into the market three weeks ago?

He—I kept telling you that I thought stocks were at ridiculous levels and you kept telling me that your woman's intuition told you they were not.

She—Why, George, how can you stand there and say such a thing?

He—I'm not complaining, honey. I'm just reminding you that a month ago, when I told you I thought we ought to buy some of the leading stocks and put 'em away, you opposed it.

She—I opposed it?

He—No, don't act so innocent. You said that you had a hunch they were all going lower and that it would be better for us to wait before we bought anything at all.

She—I should think you'd be ashamed to stand there and blame me for the fact you didn't have courage enough to back up your own beliefs.

He—No man feels like going ahead and risking his money when his wife is always warning him against it.

She—All I ever said when you spoke of making some investments was that the man down at the trust company told me he wouldn't touch anything but high-grade bonds.

He—That sap! And do you know what he is doing now?

She—No, what?

He—Now that the stocks are up 20 to 30 points he is telling people that he thinks business has turned the corner and that they are good buys! Can you beat it?

She—He struck me as a very intelligent fellow.

* * * *

HE—They're all alike. When stocks are at rock-bottom and everybody's scared they'll advise you to lay off, and as soon as they've shot up 50 points they'll advise you to get aboard before it's too late.

She—There you go, blaming everybody for the fact you missed the market. If you knew so much more than everybody else, why didn't you prove it?

He—There you go! I try to tell you about things in a nice, quiet way and you fly off the handle and get abusive! But, believe me, I've learned a lesson. I'll show 'em.

She—When?

He—Next time.

She—Don't make me laugh!

Dial Flashes

By ROBERT D. HEINL.

THE date tentatively set for another meeting between the committees representing the American Society of Composers and the broadcasting interests in the fight over license fees for the performance of copyrighted music is August 23. One last attempt will be made by these committees to iron out the difficulties between them before the A. S. C. A. P. goes ahead with its plan to deal with stations individually.

Singing for the third time with Victor Young and his orchestra on the Goodyear program, Merle Alcock, former contralto of the Metropolitan Opera Company, has picked the "Boat Song," by Ware, as her featured solo when she is heard over WRC at 8:30 o'clock. She also will sing the Mexican love song, "La Poloma;" "Curly-Headed Baby" and "Just a Voice to Call Me Dear."

The closing concert of the Goldman Band, played from the campus of New York University, will reach listeners over WRC at 7:30 o'clock tonight. Compositions by Handley, Wagner, Liszt and Handel will be heard.

NICOLAI BEREZOWSKY has selected the following numbers for tonight's symphony concert (WMAL, 10 o'clock):

Overture, "Boccacio" (Von Suppe); "Andantino," from "Fourth Symphony" (Tschaikowsky); "Turkish March" (Beethoven); "Fete Boheme" (Massenet); "Minuet" (Beethoven); "Musical Snuff Box" (Liadoff), and "Roses From the South" (Strauss).

Johnny Hart's engagement as an entertainer on a liner bound for Nova Scotia on a week-end cruise, provides a new setting for the "Big Time" program over WRC at 7 p. m.

It is rumored that a new radio hour will be on the air shortly under the sponsorship of Warner Bros. It is said that the talent which has been retained includes Jack Osterman as master of ceremonies, Gus Van, Aileen Stanley, Lillian Roth, Aunt Jemima and Abe Lyman's Orchestra.

WHEN Ralph Kirbery who, after weeks of persistent application and three auditions, won a spot on the N. B. C. schedule, was called in by Keith McLeod, of the program department, the latter said: "Good news, Kirbery. You're booked for a series of Sunday night broadcasts."

"Great! That's a dream come true," the singer said.

"Good. I'll be the dream singer."

The name stuck and when, a few weeks later, Kirbery was assigned to the unique schedule of a five-minute broadcast every night (WRC, 11 o'clock), the suggestion was adopted and he found himself on the air as the Dream Singer.

NINE DISTRICT GOLFERS QUALIFY FOR U.S. AMATEUR

Nats, Aided by White Sox Errors, Rally in Eighth to Win in Series Opener, 5-3

By FRANK H. YOUNG.

FONSECA'S misfit White Sox, who lead the American League in double-plays and errors, increased both of these totals by two yesterday in the opening game of their series with the Nationals. The double-murders helped them only a little but the errors proved to be the difference between a victory for them and a 5 to 3 triumph for the home team.

Until the eighth the Nats played rather listlessly and it looked as though the Chicagoans had them on the run and would coast home rather handily. Until this stage of the proceedings, Milton Gaston, the big political man from Tea Neck, N. J., enjoyed quite a pitching edge over "General" Al Crowder, Rochester's most famous carpenter. The Sox had molded three markers from eleven hits, which included two triples and a double, while the natives had garnered but four scattered bingles and a gift run.

Myer's Single Knots String.

Then conditions suddenly reversed themselves. Manager Walter Johnson sent Reynolds to the tee in Spencer's place and he walked. Dave Harris replaced Crowder at the swinging block and Appling's two-base error of his hot bounder put men on third and second. Rice's infield out scored Reynolds and moved Harris to third and Myer singled to knot the string.

Manush picked out this spot for a triple to left, breaking the deadlock, and Gaston gave way to the veteran spit-baller, Urban Faber. The latter yielded no hits, but Cronin greeted him with a fly deep enough in center to let Manush tally after the catch.

Fonseca used Fothergill and Sullivan as pinch-hitters in the ninth, but Monte Weaver, who relieved Crowder, retired the side in one-two-three order.

Throughout the game, the visitors continually pecked away at Crowder's offerings, getting at least one in every inning but the sixth. Twice triples were wasted, Hayes getting one with one dead in the opener and being nipped when he left the sack claiming Crowder had made a balk, while Berry opened the third with another also to be killed at the plate. He was held while Bluege was tossing out Gaston and then Funk tapped a pretty "squeeze" bunt. The runner was slow leaving third, though, and Crowder tossed him out.

Hayes "Squeeze" Starts Sox Scoring.

The Sox staged their only rally in the fifth canto. After Kress led off with a hit, the next two batters were disposed of, but then Funk singled and Kress scored on Hayes' perfect "squeeze," which went as a hit. A walk to Blue filled the bases, and Appling singled two mates home.

Chicago's two errors were real ones. With one dead in the sixth, English threw so badly past first on Myer's tap that the runner carried on all the way to third and later counted on Manush's infield out. The part Appling's two-base muff played in the manufacture of runs in the home eighth already has been mentioned.

It was not the fault of Jack (Sonny Boy) Hayes that his team was beaten. He had a dozen chances afield, besides figuring in two double plays, while he led his team with the flail with a triple, double and single, with Appling also getting three hits, all one-shots.

Manush was the fair-haired boy for the Nats, being credited with half of their hits. He drove home two runs and his triple, the only native extra-baser of the game, was responsible for the margin of victory.

Charest Wins Bureau Golf by Two Strokes

Clarence Charest, former tennis champion of the District, shone at a game which is even more foreign to his lone arm yesterday when he took first prize in the second flight of the annual golf tournament of officers of General Counsel's Office, Bureau of International Revenue, at Manor.

Charest shot a 97—96—193, to top W. W. Nahin by two strokes.

First flight honors went to T. M. Mather, who nosed out J. O. Rhyne, 167 to 168, and third flight prize was won by D. M. Evans, with a 200 to T. Savoy's 205.

Bolling Police Save Speer From Fans

Is Sent to Infirmary After Loss of Bout to McCready.

WILD scenes visited their wrath upon Bolling Field's rassling circus last night when the audience took the initiative and completed a job on the battered torso of villainous Frank Speer, which Earl McCready had commenced an hour before.

McCready won the match, but that was one of the incidental notes of the night. After losing the first fall in 26 minutes, Speer came back with a nice right to McCready's jaw to win the second descent in nine minutes. This drew the first rise from the gallery, for a citizen forthwith hurled his cigar butt at Speer and it alighted on the 221-pounder former Georgia Tech gridman's chest.

Speer, in turn, hurled a choice oath at the spectator, who astounded everybody in the arena, and probably himself, by starting to climb into the ring to assault the mountainous Speer. Speer pushed him back out of the ring and the fan returned armed with a chair and a few friends. Military police stopped this.

Stunned Matman Attacked.

Continuing his broad burlesque at rough play, Speer once more infuriated the gullible folk by rough tactics in the third round of their bout. After nine minutes he aimed a vicious tackle at McCready, who ducked and saw his huge adversary sail through the ropes and come to a cement-crushing landing outside the ring. Apparently stunned, Speer lay there, and presently a portion of the crowd leaped on him, notably one militant blonde, almost as large as the rassler, who jumped up and down on his prostrate form. Several chairs were piled on him before M. P.'s once more intervened.

Speer was half carried to the Bolling Field Infirmary, where he responded to treatment for minor lacerations and a trifle more serious shoulder injury.

In other bouts Ali Mohamed overpowered Joe Gotch in four minutes; Mike Romano beat Abe Kashey in 10 minutes; Mike Mazurki and Jack McArthur rassled to a 30-minute draw, and Bruce Hanson, substituting for Tiger Nelson, lived up to the memory of the missing Tiger by falling easily before Glenn Munn.

WELSH BOWS IN MUNY TENNIS

Special to The Washington Post.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 16.—While Dooly Mitchell, Washington's first seeded player, awaited the arrival of the rest of the field into the round of sixteen, Barney Welsh, a running mate from the Capital, went down to defeat in the tenth annual national public-parks tennis championship here today, 7—5, 6—1, 6—0, at the hands of Arnold Simon, Louisville dark horse and fourth seeded player.

Mitchell will not swing into action until Thursday, when he meets Harvey Terrell, giant red head from Brimingham. The Capital's speed ball artist is in the round before the semifinals, along with other ranking seeded stars.

Welsh-O'Neill Team Plays Today.

Tomorrow, Washington's doubles team of Barney Welsh and Maurice O'Neill meet a seeded pair in Ted Drewes and Bob Norton, of St. Louis. The District players are rated the underdogs.

In the Wake Of the Game

YSMAEL MORALES, an outfielder who has made quite a record with the Stars of Cuba, a traveling semipro team, not to be confused with the Cuban All-Stars, has been bought by the Nationals from the Youngstown Club. A big fellow, 24 years old, 6 feet tall and weighing 185 pounds, Morales is said to be as fleet as a greyhound. He throws left-handed and is a natural southpaw hitter who has developed into a turn-around man at the plate.

Morales was discovered by Joe Cambria, president of the Youngstown Club, and signed last April, but he was allowed to continue with the Cuban team so that he could travel around a bit and pick up a little better English. When both the Giants and Robins sent scouts to look at Morales, Cambria ordered him to report here. President Clark Griffith watched him in long workouts both afield and at bat before yesterday's game and bought him for next year's delivery. He will stick around and work out with the Nats for a week or so, however.

The Chisox will be met in the second game of the current set this afternoon. The veteran, Ted Lyons, is expected to hurl for them, while Manager Walter Johnson will give Dick Coffman another chance to start winning for the Nats. Fred Marberry, too, likely will draw a starting assignment shortly unless Tommy Thomas' ailing arm responds to treatments sooner than anticipated.

Mildred "Call Me Babe" Didrikson, who took two Olympic titles back to Dallas, is now on the trail of a golf crown, though she has played the game only about a dozen times. She says her next public appearance will be as a contender in the national women's golf tournament at Peabody, Mass., September 27. Above, her driving follow-through.

TRIBE BEATS A'S TO TAKE SECOND

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 16 (A.P.).—By the narrow margin of one run, the Cleveland Indians today defeated the Athletics and squeezed past the Mackmen into second place. The score of the first encounter of the four-game series was 3 to 2.

The Indians were aided by a costly muff by Bing Miller in the second inning. Morgan, the Redskins' first sacker, lifted an easy fly to Miller, who watched it come out of the sun and then let the ball drop at his feet. Cissell followed with a double that put Morgan across.

Haas and Myatt Hit Home Runs.

It was an exciting tilt, with a home run playing the major role for each side. Mule Haas smashed one over the rgiht-field wall in the eighth inning with Bishop on first, putting the Mackmen within one run of a tie. The other homer was hit by Myatt, who poked the ball out of bounds in the fifth inning with Kamm on first.

The Athletics combed Mel Harder for a hit an inning in the early part of the game, getting a total of eight for the game. Earnshaw, who suffered his tenth defeat of the season, held the Indians to seven hits.

British Speed King Arrives for Race

New York, Aug. 16 (A.P.).—Kaye Don, Britain's bachelor speed king, discovered on his arrival here today that the Harmsworth speedboat races, in which he will drive Miss England III at Detroit, will start at 6:30 a. m. because of tide conditions.

"My goodness," he said, "I'll have to stay up all night."

Don said he did not believe his Miss England III was the fastest boat that would be built or that his record of 119.81 miles an hour would long stand as a record.

"Motorboat speed," he said, "will be as great as man cares to make it."

Don said he would not be surprised to see the winning boat in the Harmsworth races average 100 miles an hour. He said the new course on Lake St. Clair, with thre mile straightaways and half-mile turns, would make for greater speed and a better race. Previously Wood has defended the trophy on a short course in the Detroit River.

Red Sox Late Rally Short as Browns Win

He had an easy time of it until the final frame, when the game ended with two on base. Campbell drove in two runs and Stewart one for the victors. Deb Garms, making his debut in center field for the Browns, hit the first time up, leading to a score.

MISS JACOBS TITLE NET WINNER

Favorite Advances; Sarah Palfrey Is Upset Victim.

By GAYLE TALBOT.

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 16 (A.P.).—Pounding confidently toward the championship the experts already have conceded as hers for the taking, Helen Jacobs, of Berkeley, today scored an impressive victory over Virginia Rice, unseeded Boston girl, in the second round of the women's national tennis tournament at the West Side Tennis Club.

The California star, making her first appearance in the title meet, played brilliant tennis to overwhelm Miss Rice, 6—1, 6—0, and give fifteen other survivors an idea of the task they face in trying to keep her out of the throne room.

Although Miss Jacobs never has been able to get past her old rival, Mrs. Helen Wills Moody, there was disappointment today that the champion did not return from Europe to defend her crown. Miss Jacobs obviously has attained the height of her game in expectation of another shot at the great Moody.

Only one of the favored players failed to follow the leader into the third round. Little Sarah Palfrey, of Boston, ranked No. 7 nationally and seeded fifth in the current tournament, fell before Alice Marble, a tall blonde from San Francisco, after a lengthy struggle, 6—3, 6—4, 6—2.

Miss Marble will have an opportunity to unseat another seeded star tomorrow, when she encounters Joan Ridley, of England.

Capital City Tennis Entries Close Friday

Entries for the annual Capital City League tennis tournament close Friday night at the Tennis Shop, 1019 Fifteenth street northwest, with William O. Shreve, secretary-treasurer of the Washington Tennis Association.

The defending champions are Anthony Latona, singles, and Pat Deck and Bill Seidel, doubles. The best field in the four-year history of the tournament is expected to compete.

Rain Postpones Play In Printers' Tourney

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 16 (A.P.).—Rain today forced postponement of a semifinal game between Washington and Cincinnati in the Union Printers International Baseball Tournament.

They will play tomorrow, the winner to meet New York tomorrow also, for the title. Washington is defending champion.

VOIGT GOLF QUALIFIER.

Garden City, N. Y., Aug. 16 (U.P.).—Max Kaesche, of Paramus, N. J., and Charley Mayo, of Long Island, led the field today in the Metropolitan qualifying round for the national amateur golf tournament. Each carded a 152 for the 36 holes.

Twenty-seven Metropolitan stars qualified for the tournament which begins at Baltimore September 12. All four of the New York golfers chosen on the Walker Cup team—George Voigt, Maurice McCarthy, jr., Jess Sweetser, and George Dunlap—were among the qualifiers.

Upsets Mark Net Play at Newport

Sutter and Olliff, of British Team, Also Beaten.

By BILL KING.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 16 (A.P.).—Old man Form received but little respect from the Newport Casino tennis field today and three startling upsets were registered in the third round play. The most startling victory was captured by the heavy-handed Dave Jones, of New York, who blasted out Sidney Wood, the young but experienced New Yorker, 3—6, 6—3, 8—6.

More than one set of knowing eyebrows were raised when Keith Gledhill, of Los Angeles, eliminated the seventh seeded player, Clifford Sutter, of New Orleans, winner of the Eastern grass championship last week at Rye, N. Y. The scores were 3—6, 6—4, 6—4. The British team was taken aback when J. Gilbert Hall, of South Orange, N. J., defeated John S. Olliff, fourth seeded foreigner, in another overtime tilt, 6—3, 3—6, 6—2.

Vines Off Form But Wins.

Ellsworth Vines, national champion and last year's winner, was in no better form than yesterday. He was forced to go into an extra set to conquer little Bryan Grant, the tricky stylist from Atlanta, 6—3, 3—6, 6—4. Grant made a good showing against his great rival, but never threatened him.

Henry W. "Bunny" Austin and Frederick J. Perry, England's outstanding players, gained the round of 16 in easy fashion. Austin defeated Clayton Burwell, of Charlotte, N. C., 6—2, 6—3, and his Davis Cup partner dispatched Lester Stoeffen, of Los Angeles, 6—3, 6—3. The Japanese invaders were also successful, Jiro Satoh playing brilliant tennis to upset Jake Hess, of Fort Worth, Tex., 5—7, 6—1, 6—2, and Takeo Kuwabara outbattled Young Elbert Lewis, of Los Angeles, 6—4, 9—11, 6—0.

Only one of the foreign seeded teams fell during the opening doubles play, the Brazilians, Aranha and Costa, bowed to the Van Alen brothers, of Newport, 6—4, 8—6, in a first rounder.

Yankees Trounce Tigers, 13-8, 7-3

Lazzeri Hits 3 Homers as Lead Is Stretched to 10½ Games.

New York, Aug. 16 (A.P.).—The Yankees returned home today and took two games from Detroit, 13 to 8 and 7 to 3, to equal their longest winning streak of the year—nine straight games—and to gain the longest lead they have held this season—10½ games.

The first game was a slugfest, with Tony Lazzeri and Harry Davis hitting two homers apiece and Joe Sewell and Billy Rogell one each. Lazzeri hit a third homer in the second game. Johnny Allen won his eleventh victory in the nightcap, giving only six hits and whiffing seven.

Chevy Chase Field Topped By Harper, Virginia Youth, With Pitt Second by Stroke

CHANDLER HARPER.

Maryland Qualifies 6, Virginia 3, Pennsylvania 1.

By DAVE HERMAN.

CHANDLER HARPER, of Portsmouth, Va., an unassuming youth of 18, just out of high school, who some day hopes to abandon the simon-pure ranks and turn professional, stroked his way masterfully over the Chevy Chase's treacherous course yesterday to hang up a total of 143 and lead a fine field of 88 golfers in the Middle Atlantic sectional qualifying test for the national amateur tournament, which will occupy the spotlight at Five Farms in Baltimore, September 12 to 17.

Shooting the 36-holes in rock-steady fashion and displaying iron nerves throughout the journey, the lanky Virginian ground out a snappy 72 in the morning round and whipped out a 71 in the afternoon.

Pitt Stroke Back for Second.

One stroke behind the smiling Harper, who will fly the colors of the Princess Anne Country Club, Virginia Beach, Va., in the all-important national event, marched the District champion, Harry G. Pitt, of Manor, whose play in the morning was spectacular.

Virginia sent its star entry, Billy Howell, of Richmond, into the choice circle of nineteen qualifiers when the 20-year-old Walker Cup nominee and 1931 national amateur semifinalist rallied for a brilliant 70 after using up 75 strokes on the first eighteen.

When the firing along the Chevy Chase front ceased late in the evening, nine golfers from the Nation's Capital, six from Maryland courses, three from Virginia and one from Pennsylvania had shot their way into the successful qualifying group.

With Harper, Pitt and Howell bunched closely together, separated by but a single stroke, only three other entries were able to dent the 140 class. A former national amateur and Walker Cup star, Roland MacKenzie, of Columbia, put together rounds of 72-75 to tie at 147 with Ernie Caldwell, big gun from the Hillendale Club, of Baltimore. Roger Peacock, of Indian Spring, blazed home with a 72 in the afternoon to tag on to a 76 for a 148.

15-Year-Old Dettweiler Brilliant.

Spencer Overton, of Forest Park, Baltimore, scored a 150, while 15-year-old Billy Detwiler, of Manor Club, who also qualified, created a furore in the morning by registering a 72. Billy cracked in the afternoon and wound up with a 152 total. He will be one of the youngest to compete in the Five Farms tourney, it is believed.

Other District stars who qualified were M. F. McCarthy, of Beaver Dam; Maurice Nee, of Manor, J. F. Brawner and Miller B. Stevinson, both of Columbia, and Franklin Parks, of Congressional. Baltimore's successful entries included Howard E. Crook, Dave Crook, W. W. Symington, and Alec Knapp. Virginia also contributed John B. Reed, jr., of Richmond. Pennsylvania's lone eagle was J. W. Gitt, of Hanover.

Among the favorites who fell by the wayside were B. Warren Corkran, Maryland champion; Harry Parr 3d, of Baltimore, and Tom Bones, of

French Takes Duel as Clark Weakens; Bucs Hold Lead.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16 (U.P.).—The Pittsburgh Pirates, apparently recovered from a long-losing streak, served notice today that they still are in the running for the Nationla League pennant with a 4-to-0 victory over the Brooklyn Robins.

Larry French's seven-hit pitching stopped the fast-stepping Robins cold and enabled the Pirates to increase their lead over the third-place Brooklyn nine to a game and a half.

Lefty Clark Weakens In Eighth.

For seven innings Lefty Clark matched French's fine hurling, but he weakened in the eighth when the Pirates combined a triple, double, two singles and an error for all their runs.

Carnera Is Beaten By Stanley Poreda

Dreamland Park, Newark, N. J., Aug. 16 (A.P.).—Young Stanley Poreda, recent conqueror of Ernie Schaaf, bounced a ways farther toward a shot at Jack Sharkey's heavyweight title tonight by subduing the giant Primo Carnera in a ten-round setto.

Outweighed 62½ pounds by the mountainous Italian, the 23-year-old New Jersey City pride put on a late rally that netted a quantity of telling body blows and won the verdict of Referee Joe Mangold, of Atlantic City. Carnera's own roughness in the early rounds counted against him and probably cost him the decision.

Poreda indicated his attack at the beginning, aiming at his foe's massive midsection. Carnera's whipping left kept him away most of the way, but Poreda began to reach his mark in the seventh and made the Italian wince and double up in that session and again in the ninth and tenth rounds.

SWEET SCENT IS EASY WINNER IN FEATURE AT HAWTHORNE

Choice Leads From Start To Finish

HAWTHORNE RACE TRACK, Ill., Aug. 16 (A.P.).—Sweet Scent, from the stables of C. B. Shaffer, of Chicago, ran like the favorite she was today to score an easy victory in the Lake Kills at Hawthorne.

Melvin Lewis had Sweet Scent out in front at the rise of the barrier and had no trouble in romping in 3½ lengths to the good over Stock Market, running 6½ furlongs in 1:19. Stock Market and Golden Prince staged a battle early in the race, but the latter gave up and Don Leon came on to save the short end of the purse.

Sweet Scent paid $3.50 to win, $2.40 to place and $2.26 to show.

JOE AND ASBESTOS

(Watch Sunday's Post for New Secret Code) —By Ken Kling

Santa Crest at $12.40 was the baby Asbestos hit yesterday in spite of recent bad luck. He is still after long shots, showing you can't keep a good man down. Too bad his other horse ran second. He would have had a swell day. Bank roll is $38.11.

AT THE POST

with Bill Bennings

DEAR AL: Hawthorne Race Track, Chicago, Aug. 16.

The Irish had it today with Barney Sexton and Marty Flynn coming down and paying a hatful.

If you didn't get yours in the nightcap it was not my fault, for I advised you to take the "field." Blameless kicked in with a $65 mutuel.

Tomorrow is just another day. Nothing stands out and most anything can win without exciting comment from the judges. I will do my best for you, but remember pal, you can beat a race but you can't beat the races. Adios,

BILL.

FIRST RACE—CHAT EAGLE has the edge and may win. PHARAHEAD and MONK'S DUDE may finish in the money.

SECOND RACE—Jockey Martin may boot PANCHIO home again. VERY WELL, at a long price, may last for place, while JOURNEY'S END may get up for show.

THIRD RACE—FAYETTE PRINCE has beaten this bunch and may do so again. HOPE TO DO is honest and should be no worse than second. ARROW SWIFT for the show end.

FOURTH RACE—I am counting on Mel Lewis getting PANCHO LOPEZ away swinging and lasting long enough to grab this heat. SISKIN and RISQUE for place and show.

FIFTH RACE—CHARLEIGH is such an "in and outer" that it is hard to tab him. If not in a running mood REHOBOTH is sure to grab him. PAIR BY PAIR will be knocking at the door.

SEVENTH RACE—CAPT. ED has the rail and is sure to be in front for a big part of the journey. May last it out. CURMUDGEON and LA FERIA for the balance.

Marathoners Here For Race Saturday

By land, water and sky, and even by effete means of hitch-hiking, the iron-legged athletes who will run in the National A. A. U. marathon Saturday afternoon began arriving in the Capital yesterday. Chief interest centered around the arrival of Paul de Bruyn, sturdy winner of the Boston marathon this year.

Coming 24 hours before schedule, De Bruyn was confident that he would vindicate his disappointing showing in the Olympics with a stunning win of the national title.

Another arrival yesterday was Bill Mihalo, ace of the Ogden Park Club of Chicago, which organization is sending a fleet of racers to the meet. The rest of the fleet languished somewhere on the asphalt wastes of Ohio yesterday with a recalcitrant Ford. Mihalo hitch hiked.

"Legs" Ackels, Roxbury, Mass., was still another to arrive. He made the trip from Roxbury to Louisville to Washington on 80 cents.

Saturday's 26-mile 385-yard amble starts at Mount Vernon, traverses the new Mount Vernon highway and encircles the Monument, Capitol and otherwise associates itself with the history of the Father of the Country.

FISHING GROUNDS FOUND.

Fishing is reported excellent in the Chesapeake off Chesapeake Beach by Capt. Noah Hazard, veteran fish snatcher of this region. Trout and bluefish predominate.

READING NINE ELIMINATES SPENGLERS

Special to The Washington Post.

CUMBERLAND, Md., Aug. 16.—In a ragged game that went nearly three hours, the District of Columbia champions, sponsored by Spengler Post No. 12, lost to Gregg Post No. 12, Reading, Pa., champions, in the opener of the Region No. 10 American Legion junior series here today. The score was 15 to 3. Washington used three pitchers—Bieber, Frye and Wahler—who gave a total of nine bases on balls. These, coupled with seven errors and thirteen hits, gave the Pennsylvanians an easy victory.

Boyd's Homer One of Four Spengler Hits.

The Reading team, which is coached by Silva, former International League player, plays the Newcastle, Dela., Blue Cats in the first game tomorrow, while the Baltimore and Ohio team of Baltimore, will meet St. Mary's, West Va., champions, in the second game.

TOUGH ONES IN STADIUM FEATURES

Garibaldi, Zaharias in Top Bouts for Tomorrow.

THE weekly parade of the terrifying mat mastodons of Joe Turner takes place tomorrow night at Griffith Stadium, led by a couple of bulls known throughout the rassling jungle as really tough babies.

Gino Garibaldi is toughy No. 1. He meets a dependable punching bag in Pat O'Shocker, durable Celt, who has been winning matches here lately. Garibaldi is yet to be beaten in Washington, although his record is marred by a couple of gift disqualifications handed him by the pugnacious umpire, fat Bennah Bortnick.

George Zaharias is toughy No. 2. He meets, and probably will grind into a fine horseradish, one Floyd Marshall, a big and ostentatiously rough rassler. Both boys pull a minimum of their elbow jabs and neither probably would be safe to leave the kiddies with while at the moom pitchers.

The rest of the card does not particularly scintillate; in fact, it may turn out to be very bad, indeed. In the first of these extra matches Chief White Feather takes on a much less warlike Indian in Son Jennings; Abe Coleman meets Buck Olsen and Jack Hurley has to do with Herman Hickman.

Industrial League Crown to Dixie Pigs

Constructioneers Bow, 6-4, in Deciding Contest of Title Series.

The Dixie Pigs attained the championship of the Industrial League on the Ellipse before more than 2,000 spectators yesterday afternoon by turning back the Constructioneers, 6-4, in a "rubber" game which bore all the earmarks of a championship fray.

The teams stood a game apiece in the playoff for the title, the Pigs having won the first encounter, 3-2, and the Constructioneers the second by 7-3.

Yesterday's was pretty much of a pitching battle between Aggie Adair, rising young sandlotter, and the combined efforts of Murphy and Jewitt. Adair was hit rather freely, eight bingles sliding off the Constructioneer bats, but, as usual, did not walk a man.

Rails Lead Stocks in Return To High Peak of Last Week

New York, Aug. 16 (A.P.).—The railroad issues led the securities markets upward today, bringing the average level of shares back to the approximate peak of the summer recovery registered last week.

Important news developments of a character to influence the market were lacking, and prices swung over a wide range in stocks, closing substantially under the best.

Yesterday's smart comeback, after the selling late last week, precipitated a rush of buying and short covering in the opening transactions, which boosted many prices 1 to 7 points, and delayed the ticker several minutes.

The market cooled down somewhat as trading wore on, although rails had a fresh burst of strength at midday. The list came back again in the final dealings, closing with numerous advances of 1 to 4 points. The turnover was 3,611,575 shares, or close to last Friday's.

Bulls in stocks were impressed by a rise of nearly $1 a bale in cotton to new highs for the movement in the morning, but this advance had been cut to 30 to 50 cents at the close.

The more hopeful attitude toward the rails received fresh impetus in unofficial Wall street estimates that New York Central might about break even for August, after showing a deficit of more than $3,000,000 in June, and a substantial loss for July. The stock was heavily traded, rising more than 2 points to a new top for the movement. Chesapeake & Ohio pushed up 2⅜, but finished a point under the top. Union Pacific rushed up 6¼, and closed off 1½ from the top. A 4½-point gain in Santa Fe was reduced to 3¼.

U. S. Steel was a feature of the opening, advancing about 5 points with a 10,000-share transaction. It closed at 43⅛, up 3. Case and Allied Chemical rose 6 and 7 points, respectively, and closed 3 under the best. Westinghouse Electric was a strong feature, up more than 4 points to a new high for 1932.

THE MARKETS AT A GLANCE

What the Stock Market Did

	Tues.	Mon.
Number of declines	123	77
Stocks unchanged	120	94
Total issues traded	740	599

Stocks.

Rails led stocks back to the highest ground attained last week. Gains averaged 4 points on a 3,611,575 share turnover.

Bonds.

Advance in loans was led also by rails. Speculative issues attracted most attention. Gains averaged six-tenths of a point.

Curb.

Trading volume increased to 450,000 shares, and the market added 1 to 2 points, although there was a scattering of larger gains.

Wheat.

Prices tumbled on selling pressure. Export rumors affected the market adversely. Other gains also declined. Losses about wiped out former profits.

Cotton.

Realizing and Southern selling clipped 12 points from early gains. Prices advanced 6 to 10 points at the close. Liverpool covered.

BONDS REPEAT RISE, LED BY RAIL ISSUES

Six-tenths Added, Despite Profit Taking as Sales Reach $15,295,000.

New York, Aug. 16 (A.P.).—The railways again carried the bond market on an upward journey today, although there were some slowdowns for profit-taking crossings and a number of passengers alighted at way stations.

Trading activity broadened considerably, sales totaling $15,295,000, par value, or an increase of some $5,000,000 over yesterday's turnover. The average for 60 corporate bonds advanced six-tenths of a point.

Speculative issues generally attracted the largest followings. This was true especially of the rails, many of which jumped from 1 to 4 or more points. The heaviest trading took place in bonds of Allegheny Corporation, Baltimore & Ohio, St. Paul, Chicago & North Western, Great Northern, Illinois Central, Missouri Pacific and New York Central.

The utilities and industrials that improved substantially included loans of American & Foreign Power, American Telephone, American Water Works, Bethlehem Steel, Certain-Teed, Chile Copper, Columbia Gas, General Cable, Goodrich Tire, International Hydroelectric and International Telephone.

Year's Cotton Supply Listed As 4,856,694 Bales Greater

(Associated Press.)

The supply of cotton in the United States for the cotton year which ended July 31, was reported yesterday by the Census Bureau to have been 23,170,748 bales, exclusive of linters. Consumption was 4,869,103 bales, net exports 8,706,890 bales, and the carry-over on July 31 was 9,682,316 bales.

The supply for the previous year was 18,314,054 bales, consumption was 5,262,974 bales, net exports 6,757,475 bales and the carry-over 6,369,993 bales.

This year's cotton crop, as estimated by the Department of Agriculture last week, is indicated as 11,306,000 bales.

Lead Advances 10 Points.

New York, Aug. 16 (A.P.).—An advance of 10 points in the price of lead, to 3.20 cents a pound, was announced today by the American Smelting & Refining Co.

CURB AGAIN CLIMBS IN BUOYANT TRADING

Advance Reached 2 Points in Heavier Sales of 450,000 Shares.

New York, Aug. 16 (A.P.).—With sales reaching 450,000 shares, against 230,000 yesterday, the curb market today enjoyed another upward above which a late reaction failed to erase. Gains of most stocks ranged from fractions to around 2 points with some advancing as high as 5 points.

The utility stocks were active and strong. Electric Bond & Share common soared to a new high on the current move at 25¼ and at its closing price of 24 still retained 1⅛ points of its maximum gain.

Pan-American Airways, which reached a new 1932 high yesterday, attracted considerable following today, the stock moving up 1⅛ additional, to 19⅛.

CommodityFund Rumor Again Stirs Wall Street

New York, Aug. 16 (A.P.).—Rumors concerning the proposed formation of a commodities finance corporation flew thick and fast throughout Wall street today, but at the close of business leading bankers appeared to be as much in the dark about the plan as they were before.

Eugene Meyer, governor of the Federal Reserve Board and sponsor of the proposal, was not in the city. It was stated that he was gone for a brief vacation.

WHEAT VALUES SINK ON SALES PRESSURE

Unfavorable Export Rumors Also Affect Prices; Other Grains Down.

Chicago, Aug. 16 (A.P.).—Somersaulting backward, wheat prices suddenly parted company with the New York Stock Market today, and much more than lost substantial gains.

Concentrated selling which developed in wheat was associated with evidence that export demand for United States wheat had flattened out, whereas the largest overseas business in some time had been put through today from Canada. Much of the selling that accompanied the fall of wheat appeared to be of a stop-loss character.

Wheat closed unstable at almost the day's low, ⅞ to 1¼ under yesterday's finish; corn, unchanged to ¼ to ⅜ down; oats, ¼ to ⅜ off, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 20 cents.

Not only were United States wheat export developments disappointing, but traders were faced by a prospect that for some time there would be a liberal movement of wheat to terminals northwest.

LONDON—Trading was cheerful on the stock exchange due to the success of the conversion plan, but gilt-edged securities dropped on profit taking after an early advance. Argentine rails and German bonds were stronger while transatlantic issues were appreciably higher on favorable Wall street reports. The market closed firm.

PARIS—Prices on the bourse showed a firm tendency after the three-day holiday reflecting the good tone in Wall street. Trading was calm for the most part and rentes improved. The closing was well disposed.

BERLIN—Prices were firm on the bourse with an upward tendency on the hopeful international outlook.

UNDERWRITERS PLAN SESSIONS' PROGRAM

By THOMAS M. CAHILL.

Five nationally known speakers have accepted invitations to deliver addresses at the annual joint convention of the International Association of Casualty and Surety Underwriters and the National Association of Casualty and Surety Agents at the Greenbrier Hotel, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., September 27 to 29.

They are Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher, Chicago Tribune; Paul L. Haid, president, Insurance Executives Association, New York City; Alfred Hurrell, vice president, Prudential Insurance Co. of America, Newark, N. J.; J. F. Owens, president, Oklahoma Gas & Electric Co., and past president, National Electric Light Association, Oklahoma City, Okla.; George S. Van Schaick, superintendent of insurance, State of New York, Albany.

That the average consumer uses 51 square yards of cotton cloth a year and eats more than 150 pounds of meat are among facts discovered in a recent survey of the American consumer market by Investors Syndicate, of Minneapolis, with local offices.

While the average man is a difficult person to find, his habits as revealed statistically are such as to make or break great industries. In this year of stringency, for example, he has, for some inexplicable reason, chosen to burn more gasoline than he did during the boom.

His savings account, apparently little affected by the change in conditions, totals $134. His innate habit of thrift, Investors Syndicate finds, has been stubbornly maintained in the face of some of the greatest bargains in history on one hand and a frequent need for extra cash on the other.

In addition to his large consumption of meat, the typical consumer drinks 849 pounds of milk and 11 pounds of coffee a year and eats 249 pounds of potatoes and 12 pounds of candy.

Receivers Are Named For American Railways

Newark, N. J., Aug. 16 (A.P.).—Equity receivers were appointed yesterday for the American Railways Co., a New Jersey holding company controlling $7,046,522 in bonds and other assets deposited in a Camden, N. J., bank.

Secretary of State Thomas A. Mathis and C. I. Grippen, president of the company, were the receivers named, on application of counsel for the American Electric Power Corporation of Delaware, which controls all the stock of the defendant company and is described as a creditor to the extent of $22,000.

HEAVY COTTON GAINS CLIPPED BY SELLING

December Closes at 7.70; Rise Is 6 to 10 Points; Liverpool Covers.

New York, Aug. 16 (A.P.).—A further advance which carried December up to 7.82 or 252 points above the low record of early last June, was followed by partial reactions in cotton today under realizing and a little more Southern selling.

December closed at 7.70 or 12 points off from the best, with the general market closing steady at net advances of 6 to 10 points.

The advance net considerable Southern selling, some thought to be for account of the cooperative interests, but prices worked up to 7.64 for October and 8.03 for March, or 16 to 18 points net higher during the middle of the day. On slackened demand and realizing the market turned easier and closing quotations showed reactions of 10 or 12 points from the best.

July 31 stocks of all growths excluding linters in this country, at 9,682,316 bales were about in line with the forecasts. The figures had little effect on the market.

Liverpool cables said the market there had been influenced by covering and speculative buying on the success of the British conversion loan. Exports today 5,714, making 204,059 so far this season.

Seat on Stock Exchange Gains $30,000 in Price

New York, Aug. 16 (A.P.).—The price of New York Stock Exchange seats took another big jump today with the closing of a transfer at $150,000, an increase of $30,000 over the previous sale.

Not since March have seats sold at $150,000 or better, and since that time they fell to $68,000, a record low for several years.

C. & O. STOCK TO PAY REGULAR DIVIDENDS

Portland Cement Preferred to Issue Checks fro Usual $1.75.

New York, Aug. 16 (A.P.).—The Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Co. today declared the regular quarterly dividend of 62½ cents on the common stock, payable October 1 to stock of record September 8.

Declaration of the regular payment maintains Chesapeake & Ohio's position as the only important railroad which has not reduced its dividend. The present rate has been in effect since the stock was split four for one in 1930, and is equivalent to the $10 annual rate paid on the old stock of $100 par.

In announcing the declaration of the regular quarterly dividend of $1.75 on the preferred stock, the Lehigh Portland Cement Co. informed stockholders that in view of impairment of surplus during the past year future dividend action on the preferred would have to depend upon improvement in the company's earnings.

Gotham Silk Hosiery Co. reports for the six months ended June 30 consolidated net profit of $62,765, compared with $254,481 for the first half of 1931. Figures for the first half do not include the profit from the merger of the Gotham Knitback Machine Corporation, which was reserved for contingencies.

Woolen Mills Open Industrial Activity

New York, Aug. 16 (A.P.).—Financial interests close to the woolen industry now see a faint light on the depression horizon although, it is pointed out, there are many "ifs" between the present status of the business and a condition approximating prosperity.

Wool started toward the bottom of the commodity scale along about 1925. The first sign of a real pickup came in July this year at the London auctions when prices firmed all along the line. Both the spot and futures markets have since shown an improvement, some of the large mills are now working three shifts a day and, as one wool dealer expressed it, there are "threats of a threatened shortage."

Manufacturers report there has been recently an unusual number of inquiries from all parts of the country from customers who have previously been following a "hand-to-mouth" policy. Increased business at this time, however, is somewhat of a seasonal nature, although July is ordinarily the month in which winter trade is placed.

In the last month, observers state, woolen mills have "stepped up" more than any other manufactures throughout the country except those of boots and shoes.

"The situation is exceedingly speculative," said one authority, "and, of course, everything depends upon the demand. If unemployment decreases, and basic business conditions improve substantially, there will be hopes for the woolen industry. Things look a trifle better right now, but our slight optimism is based principally on hopes. The woolen industry knows there has been a large vacuum created by stinted clothes buying. This will be rapidly filled when monetary fears disappear."

Wall Street Briefs

New York, Aug. 16 (A.P.).—Despite the fact that sharp rallies have occurred in stock exchange seat prices following some of the earlier and short-lived upward movements in securities, brokers feel considerably encouraged over their recovery of $82,000 from the year's low. Today's sale at $150,000 compares with the year's high of $175,000 established in February. In 1931 the range was $322,000 to $122,000.

Illinois Central Railroad's July statement is expected to show net operating income of more than $600,000, compared with $260,495 in June and $1,116,616 in July, 1931.

Wall street hears that the August seasonal upturn in the film business is getting under way, with indications of some improvement in income this fall. All of the important film producers, with the exception of Loew's, Inc., have reported large operating deficits so far this year.

Business failures as reported to Bradstreet's fell sharply during the week ended August 11, dropping from 572 to 511. The decline is notable in that it runs counter to the normal trend at this time. Improvement in retail trade conditions seems largely responsible for the ebb in defaults, the agency states.

Farmer buying of fence barn wire, sheets and pipe is expected to be of very substantial proportions, says the American Metal Market. Fabricated structural steel inquiry appearing in the past week has been well above the average, and lettings have been fair, according to this review.

In accordance with its decision of last week the New York Stock Exchange today struck from list the common and 7 per cent cumulative preferred stocks of the Brockway Motor Truck Corporation. The stocks were removed because of the company's failure to issue an annual report for 1931.

Weather Aids Canada Harvest.

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 16 (A.P.).—The weather during the past two weeks has been almost ideal for harvesting in western Canada, but there has been a further decline in yield prospects, states a report issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics today.

CONSTABLE RESIGNS TO KEEP G. P. O. JOB

Official in Prince Georges Is Told Retention Violates Civil Service Rule.

Resignation of Constable Kelly Woodell, of Kent District, was accepted yesterday by the Prince Georges County commissioners. Constable Woodell, who works for the Government Printing Office, informed the commissioners that he had been informed by his office that retention of the position would be construed as violation of the civil service rule against participating in political activities. He is the second from the printing office to be forced to resign for this cause.

A petition was received by the commissioners asking that Metzerott road be included in the road program for the county recommended to the State roads commission for next year's program. It was asked that the road be concreted and included in the State roads system for upkeep. Among the signers of the petition were Oliver Metzerott, member of the Maryland House of Delegates, and former Sheriff John J. Fink.

A delegation from Allentown appeared before the commissioners to ask that a mile of gravel road be added to each end of the road between Reds Corner and Broad Creek and that the road be included in the State roads system.

Complaint was received from citizens residing near Camp Springs regarding the operation of a colored roadhouse in the woods near Camp Springs. The commissioners were informed that citizens plan taking matters in their own hands if the county police do not clean up the place. The roadhouse was raided Sunday night and several Negroes arrested. The patrons of the place come mainly from Washington, it was said.

Four men, one colored, were held for the action of the Federal courts in Baltimore on charges of manufacture and possession of intoxicating liquor. Each was held in $1,000 bond by United States Commissioner J. Frank Parran at Upper Marlboro, Md., after preliminary hearing was waived by Attorney George Merrick, counsel for the quartet.

Those arrested were George Richardson, James Tayman, Roy Windsor and Arthur Jackson, the last mentioned colored. They were apprehended by Federal prohibition investigators.

Sergt. H. G. Machen and Policemen Claude Reese and William E. Clifton, of the Prince Georges police, yesterday raided a house near Ardmore and destroyed a large still. No arrests were made as the house was unoccupied at the time of the raid.

Road refunds to the nineteen incorporated towns of the county will amount to $36,628.01 this year, according to Henry St. James L. Briscoe, jr., clerk to the county commissioners. Three-fourths of road taxes collected by the county from property in the town limits go to the incorporated towns for the upkeep of streets and roads in the corporate limits of the towns. The towns last year received $41,683.58. Because of the reduction in the road tax from 23 to 20 cents, amounts due each town have decreased.

Each town will receive rebates as follows: Hyattsville, $8,604.82; Mount Rainier, $6,296.99; Riverdale, $3,429.43; Upper Marlboro, $742; Laurel, $2,783.38; Bowie, $485; Takoma Park, $1,329.26; Brentwood, $2,544.63; Cottage City, $1,393.91; Colmar Manor, $1,796.50; Eagle Harbor, $222.39; Cheverly, $1,200.22; Seat Pleasant, $996.81; Capitol Heights, $1,492.28; North Brentwood, $429.64; Bladensburg, $1,151.56; Berwyn Heights, $641.17; Edmonston, $887.35, and Boulevard Heights, $200.67.

3 Men Are Badly Hurt When Car Leaves Road

Three colored men were seriously injured yesterday when the automobile in which they were riding failed to make a curve on the Leonardtown road near Mechanicsville, Md. The car crashed into a culvert on the right side and then catapulted to the left side where it crashed into a telephone pole.

The men, who gave their names as Raymond Howell, 34, 1239½ Sixth street northwest; Richard Brooks, 27, of 821 Euclid street northwest, and James Williams, 25, of Baltimore, Md., were brought to Freedmen's Hospital, where they are in a serious condition. A detainer was placed against them by Maryland State Policeman C. C. Serman, of the Brandywine substation. The car is alleged to have been stolen from Mrs. Ella K. Miller, of Baltimore, Md., while parked in Baltimore.

Seat Pleasant to Ban Loafers.

Loitering on the street corners in Seat Pleasant has been ordered broken up by the mayor and council. Town police have been instructed to break up the habit and to arrest all persons who are disorderly, whether on the street or in private property.

COUNTY AUTHORIZES CONDEMNATION RULE

Wisconsin Avenue Widening Plans Are Made by Montgomery.

Montgomery County Bureau of The Post, 9103 Conn. Ave., North Chevy Chase, Md. Telephone Wisconsin 4205.

Land needd for the right of way for the widening of Wisconsin avenue from the District line to Bradley lane was ordered acquired yesterday by the Montgomery County commissioners. Instructions were given counsel to the commissoiners, the firm of Whiteford & Cissel, to secure the land by condemnation if necessary.

The commissioners are anxious to negotiate with the owners direct and do away with the costs of condemnation suits, but where the price is apparently too high they will proceed in circuit court at Rockville. Funds will come from the $1,000,000 school and road bond issue which the commissioners hope to sell shortly.

The commissioners yesterday informed the Social Service League of Montgomery County that funds will be available to provide adequate relief to the people of the county next winter and that the league "under no circumstance should refuse aid to justifiable calls for material relief during the present national depression."

The commissioners, in a letter to Dr. J. W. Bird, president of the league, which is the official relief organization for the county and is partly supported by its funds, said that the county's participation in the State relief program, to be submitted by Gov. Albert C. Ritchie to the January session of the General Assembly, will be made available to the league for relief work. They further declared that should these funds not be suficient to meet the situation that they pledge themselves to devote $15,000 of the county revolving fund as an additional support. The letter is signed by Lacy Shaw, president of the board of county commissioners.

The commissioners approved the rezoning petition of Edward W. Offutt for reclassification from residential to commercial of the property on the west side of the Rockville pike near Edson lane on which stands the store and gasoline station of Mr. Offutt. The property was in commercial use before adoption of the zoning ordinances. No objection was raised to the rezoning at the hearing held at a prior date. The board ordered the Hawkins Creamery road reopened as repairs are completed and the road between Travilah and Glen closed for repairs. The contract for furnishing the county with road oil, tar and asphalt was awarded to the Bituminous Products Co. of Washington, and the contract for construction of a storm sewer and grading on Elm street in Bethesda to the Security Construction Co. Bids for stone and crushed rock were submitted to counsel for study and report. The contracts were awarded on the recommendation of County Engineer Harry B. Shaw.

Montgomery Red Cross Chapter Employs Nurse

Miss Edith Crumbaker, of Cleveland, Ohio, has been retained by the Montgomery County Chapter of the American Red Cross as visiting nurse for the county, according to an announcement by Mrs. J. Somervell Dawson, chairman of the visiting nurse committee. Miss Crumbaker will begin her duties September 1 and will have her office in the Rockville High School.

Her salary will be paid by the chapter. No charge will be made for her services, but those able to do so are expected to contribute to the chapter fund for paying the cost of the service.

SANDLOT DUST

The lawyers of Alexandria and Washington will settle it out of court tomorrow afternoon on Diamond No. 10, when they meet to decide something or other on the baseball field.

ALEXANDRIA TRAFFIC SURVEY IS FINISHED

The result of a survey made by the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads of traffic conditions in Alexandria, and particularly on Washington street, which forms a part of the Mount Vernon Memorial Highway and U. S. Route No. 1, was submitted yesterday to City Manager Wallace Lawrence.

The principal feature of the report is the recommendation that Washington street be made a "through way" over its entire length, and that stop signs be erected at all intersections with the exception of King street. At this intersection it is recommended that a flexible timing control device of the vehicle-actuated type be installed; that the present center-suspension signal be discarded, and post-type signals be erected in its place.

No change in the speed limit is recommended, the present limit being 15 miles an hour in the business section and 25 miles in residential sections, which is in conformity with the State law for cities and towns. A system of painted lines and traffic markers is recommended for the intersection of Washington street with U. S. Route No. 1, Cameron and Franklin streets, to correct the confusion now existing at those intersections, and paint lines are recommended at Washington and King streets to produce an orderly grouping of waiting vehicles.

The marked contrast between the lighting on the Mount Vernon Memorial highway and that on Washington street is pointed out, with the recommendation that better lighting be provided for Washington street.

The traffic count taken, it is stated, justifies the designation of Washington street as a major street, the average hourly traffic being more than 600 vehicles, and the proportion of traffic on Washington street ranging between 58 and 93 per cent of all traffic at the intersections counted.

Fire Chief James M. Duncan, jr., of Alexandria, has been appointed a member of the executive committee of the Virginia State Firemen's Association, by Franklin Wheeler, of Clifton Forge, president of the association. Chief Duncan served as an honorary pallbearer at the funeral of J. C. Clarity, of Charlottesville, who was killed in an automobile accident while returning from the annual convention in Alexandria last Friday night.

Alexandria police have been requested to look out for Walter Bailey, 16-year-old son of Mrs. Cora Bailey, 421 Cameron street, who has been missing from his home since Friday. The mother believes her son has gone to Reidsville, N. C. He is described as being 5 feet 4 inches tall, weighing atbout 130 pounds, with dark-brown hair and gray eyes. He wore overall trousers and a blue shirt when last seen.

Funeral services for Ralph Nelson Pierpoint, a former resident of Alexandria, who died Sunday in Baltimore, will be conducted at 3:30 p. m. today at the home of his sister, Mrs. John G. Runaldue, 74 Alexandria avenue, by the Rev. Norris A. Lineweaver, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church, and burial will be in Bethel Cemetery, Alexandria.

Surviving Mr. Pierpoint are his wife, Mrs. Bettie Pierpoint; his mother, Mrs. H. R. Pierpoint, of Alexandria, and five brothers and five sisters.

TELEPHONE CONCERN OPENS RATE DEFENSE

The Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co. yesterday afternoon opened its long-delayed defense in the telephone-rate inquiry being conducted by the Public Utilities Commission with four statistical exhibits intended to show that its net revenue has decreased during the first six months of this year and threatens to reach only 6.1 per cent as against 7.4 per cent in 1931.

While the telephone company's revenues have increased from $9,363,086 in 1931 to $9,737,008 as of June 30, this year, figured on as annual basis, its operating costs have jumped from $7,100,564 to $7,790,046. Thus the net telephone revenues have fallen from $2,262,522 to $1,946,962.

After completing the cross-examination of commission witnesses, R. A. Van Orsdel and Baxter Milne, counsel for the company, placed Harry C. Gretz, general auditor, on the witness stand as the first and most important witness. The telephone officials explained that their figures are more up to date than those introduced by William A. Roberts, special counsel for the commission, in that they covered an additional half-year period or until June 30.

Increase Not Net Explained.

Just why the company's operating expenses have jumped so much during the first half of this year was not explained at the hearing yesterday though it is expected that it will be taken up later. Lloyd B. Wilson, president, explained afterward, however, that it was attributable chiefly to the increase in the number of stations and added service demand plus the nonrecurring costs of replacing manual equipment with the dial system.

He said that, although some 3,000 telephones were disconnected during June and July, the number in operation is still close to 10,000 more than were in operation at the beginning of 1931.

The telephone company's comparative income statement showed an increase of more than $440,000 in exchange service revenues in the six months to June 30, 1932, still on an annual basis, but toll service revenues reflected a drop, actual and anticipated, of about $70,000.

The greatest gains in operating expenses are charged to current maintenance, traffic costs, and taxes. Current maintenance costs rise from $1,371,340 to $1,586,398 while the value of the average plant in service increases from $30,594,857 to $31,914,254.

Rise in Traffic Costs.

Traffic costs jump from $1,979,339 to $2,162,458, while operations taxes increase from $683,372 to $696,152.

The income statement further shows that if the present Federal taxes were in effect during the whole of 1932, the net telephone revenues would be only 5.94 per cent, instead of 6.1 per cent.

Total assets of the telephone company on June 30, this year, are given as $35,803,808.59. This is almost $12,000,000 more than the reproduction cost introduced by Mr. Roberts through Thomas R. Tate, commission valuation engineer.

ARCHBISHOP OF PARIS IS RECEIVED AT C. U.

AIR DERBY PLANES MAKE SPEED TEST

Average of Crafts Will Be Basis of Handicap Race to Cleveland.

Preliminary speed tests of airplanes competing in the Atlantic wing of the Transcontinental Handicap Sweepstakes Air Derby for the Cord Trophy starting from Washington Hoover Field next Sunday were held yesterday afternoon on the Navy racing course off Hains Point.

The 40 or more planes competing in the race will be handicapped during the remaining part of the week. Officials have announced that Lieut. Stanley Umstead, Army Air Corps flier now stationed at Bolling Field, will be one of the test pilots. Other pilots who will test the contestants' ships are Melvin Goff, of the National Aeronautic Association, and William Payne, local flying instructor.

Officials at Bettis Field, Pittsburgh, Pa., became worried yesterday concerning R. S. Sague, Cleveland pilot, who was unreported after passing over the Pittsburgh Airport Monday evening. Just as a general alarm was about to be sent out yesterday at 9 a. m. Sague landed his ship at Washington-Hoover Field, explaining that he had been forced to spend the night at Willow Hill, Pa.

Twenty planes, two of them piloted by young women, arrived yesterday. All planes failing to reach here by midnight will be assessed penalties on the point scores in the series dashes of the derby route.

The women who will participate in their first derby are Helen MacCloskey, 22, and Helen Richey, 22, both of Pittsburgh. Miss Richey is the first girl in her city to get a pilot's license.

The other arrivals were:

J. A. Fields, Bradford, Pa.; J. V. Hays, Ponca City, Okla.; R. H. Moore, Dayton, Ohio; W. F. Cummings, Donaldsville, Ga.; J. F. Tuohy, Olean, N. Y.; Lee Gehlbach, Mount Clemens, Mich.; S. C. Hoffman, Cincinnati, Ohio; C. J. Fenton, Toledo, Ohio; Raymond Hill, Cleveland, Ohio; Doug Davis, Atlanta, Ga.; J. E. Herndon, Kansas City; Harold Neuman, Moline, Ill.; Dudley Reed, Fairmount, W. Va.; Jack Morris, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Harvey Hughes, Lansing, Mich.; J. E. Owen, Asheville, N. C.; Fred Dorset, Augusta, Ga.; G. C. Lennox, New Haven, Conn., and J. D. Crane, New Haven, Conn.

6 DISTRICT WELFARE WORKERS TO CONFER

Chest Leaders and Others to Attend Parley at White House, Sept. 15.

Washington will be represented by six men at the welfare and relief mobilization conference at the White House September 15.

The official Washington delegates will be E. C. Graham, president of the Community Chest; Newbold Noyes, chairman of the Chest campaign committee and director of the Association of Community Chests and Councils, and Joshua Evans, jr., chairman of the Chest budget committee.

The three other representatives are the Right Rev. James E. Freeman, Episcopal Bishop of Washington; William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, and John Barton Payne, chairman of the American Red Cross. All three are members of the National Citizens' Committee, of which Newton D. Baker is chairman. This committee is composed of 49 nationally known men and women selected by Mr. Baker and J. Herbert Case, chairman of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York and president of the Association of Community Chests and Councils.

The conference will be opened by President Hoover with an address on "Citizens Responsibility for Human Welfare." Mr. Baker will make the response. Twenty-seven national welfare agencies are cooperating in the welfare and relief mobilization. Its purpose is to reinforce local social service organizations in securing adequate funds and to assist them in readjusting their programs to fit the needs of their individual communities.

"Soul" Dr. Palmer's Topic Tonight.

Dr. Ray Palmer will preach on "The Immortality of the Soul" tonight at 8 o'clock at the National Memorial Baptist Church at Sixteenth street and Columbia road.

ARCHBISHOP OF PARIS FETED AT LUNCHEON

Apostolic Delegate Is Host to Cardinal; Visits Universities.

Local universities joined churchmen and distinguished laymen in entertaining Jean Cardinal Verdier, Archbishop of Paris, yesterday.

At a luncheon, the Apostolic Delegate Most Rev. Pietro Fumasoni-Biondi entertained Cardinal Verdier and a number of guests at his residence. Representatives of the Catholic University received the Cardinal at the institution Monday and he visited Georgetown University yesterday.

Cardinal Verdier was received at Catholic University Monday by two of his former students, Dr. James Geary and Dr. Francis Gilgan. He commented on the progress of the university and the many new religious houses which had been added to the campus.

Dr. W. Coleman Nevils, president of Georgetown University, showed the cardinal a portrait of one of the early presidents of the institution, who was a member of the Sulpician Order, of which the cardinal is now the general. M. Jules Henri, counselor and charge d'affaires of the French Embassy, accompanied the cardinal on his visit.

The visit to the university followed a trip to Mount Vernon, where the cardinal placed a wreath on the tomb of George Washington.

The following were guests at the luncheon tendered by the apostolic delegate: The Most Rev. John McNamara, Auxiliary Bishop of Baltimore; the Egyptian Minister, M. Jules Henri, the Rev. Dr. Boissard, the Rev. John Fenlon, the Rev. Dr. Richard, William F. Sands, Dr. Constantine McGuire, Dr. Fred V. Murphy, William F. Montavon and members of staff of the delegate.

Man and Wife Hurt When Car Overturns

A man and his wife were injured yesterday when they were pinned under their automobile which overturned on the Lee Highway between Fairfax and Centerville. Police were told the couple's car was forced off the road by a taxicab.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Anderson, of 1327 East Capitol street, were taken to Emergency Hospital from the scene of the accident. Mr. Anderson, who is 48, was found to have a fractured collar bone. He was transferred to Sibley Hospital. Mrs. Anderson was treated for lacerations to the arms and went home.

Thomas Estate Home Reported Ransacked

The Thomas estate at Klingle road and Rock Creek Park was ransacked, Johue Caple, 1426 Duncan street northeast, caretaker of the estate, reported yesterday. The glass in a basement window was broken to gain entrance.

A report of the merchandise missing will be made when Page Hufty, who lives on the premises, returns, Caple said.

Two Alarms Rung For $3,000 Fire

Blaze in Machinists' Firm Damages Building Owned by U. S.

Soaring flames from a one-story frame building in the rear of Allen Mitchell & Co., machinists, at 1818 D street northwest, were quickly extinguished by firemen who answered the two alarms turned in for the blaze last night. The building was used by the firm as a shop and storehouse.

Firemen did not determine the cause of the blaze. According to Mr. Mitchell, the building contained equipment worth $6,000. Firemen estimated the damage at $3,000.

The building itself was of little value. Last year it was purchased by the Federal Government. It was leased by the Mitchell Co. The equipment was covered by insurance.

Violin and Clothing Taken From Car.

A violin valued at $500 and clothing valued at $120 were stolen from the automobile of Mrs. C. Voigtlander, of Kansas City, Mo., which was parked on Constitution avenue between Ninth and Tenth streets northwest, yesterday. The thieves broke a lock on the door.

WARNING IS ISSUED IN SHINAULT DEATH

An order for police to use caution when answering trouble calls in sections of the city known to be dangerous was issued by police officials yesterday as search for the slayer of Policeman George W. Shinault continued.

Shinault was shot to death by a colored man, said to be William Bullock, 33, when he went to 39 F street northwest Sunday night to investigate a reported fight. The policeman was shot without having an opportunity to defend himself.

Funeral services for Shinault were held last night at his home at 1350 Franklin street northeast, with a large delegation of fellow policemen attending.

The services were conducted by the Rev. O. O. Dietz, pastor of the Brookland Baptist Church. Scores of Shinault's fellow officers stood reverently at attention as the ceremonies were conducted. An honor guard of eight men are expected to accompany the body to Richmond, Va., today, where burial will take place after Masonic services are held.

His widow was given $1,500 by the Police Relief Association, of which he was a member. She will receive the regular police pension for the support of herself and her five children.

Two men answering the description of Bullock were arrested, but were released on identification. Detective Sergt. H. K. Wilson, head of the homicide squad, said yesterday that he thinks that the slayer is still in the District or in the nearby States. A lookout along the Atlantic Coast was requested. Four colored persons are being held by police as material witnesses in the shooting.

Man's Room Robbed of $90.

A billfold containing $90 was stolen from 1322 Eleventh street northwest yesterday, according to a report by Arthur H. Hoover, who lives at that address. Entrance, he said, was gained by jimmying the front door.

COUNCIL OF KNIGHTS BACKS BENEFIT FUND

Conditions Point to Need for $1,000,000 Endowment, Says Carmody.

Creation of a million-dollar endowment fund for relief purposes was authorized yesterday by the Supreme Council of the Knights of Columbus at an executive session in the Mayflower Hotel.

Acting on the recommendation of Supreme Knight Martin H. Carmody, the convention, in a resolution, specified that the fund should be available "for relief of our members and such worthy purposes as may arise."

The means of raising the fund was placed in the hands of the supreme board of directors, which will hold its next meeting in Detroit in October, at which time, Mr. Carmody said, a definite plan probably would be presented.

Economic conditions, Mr. Carmody pointed out, has called the attention of the order to the need for an endowment for the benefit of distressed members. In the past, he said, the order has always disbursed its charities for worthy causes, but has never raised money for the benefit of its own members.

Own Family First.

"It would be a poor father who would not care for his own family first," he said.

The board of directors also was authorized by the supreme council to determine, in addition to the method of raising the money, the scope and the purposes of the fund. The endowment, Mr. Carmody explained, would act as a continuing fund, always available in time of need.

In the past their organization has raised funds for charitable purposes as the occasion arose. The largest raised was $43,000,000 during the World War. The new plan will not interfere with emergency charity of this type, the supreme knight said.

Five directors were unanimously elected for terms of three years. They are Leo F. Craig, of Sioux Falls, S. D.; James Donahoe, of Chicago; Michael J. Healy, of Topeka, Kans.; James H. Devaney, of Cascade, Iowa, and Edward P. Ryan, of Spokane, Wash.

27 Mexican Chapters Dropped.

Mexico's antichurch activities resulted in the forfeiture of the charters of 27 councils of the order in that country, Supreme Treasurer William J. McGinley reported yesterday. The forfeitures followed edicts against assemblies connected with church activities, he said. Most of the members in the chapters transferred their memberships to other councils.

Other reports made yesterday were those of Supreme Treasurer Daniel J. Callahan, of Washington; Knight John F. Martin, of Green Bay, Wis., and Supreme Physician Edward W. Fahey, of St. Paul, Minn.

The annual convention ball was held in the Mayflower Hotel last night. Entertainment was given by Bernard Fitzgerald, Arthur McCreigh, Virginia McComber and Dorothy Skinner.

The convention will close today.

ABOUT THE SHOWSHOPS

With NELSON B. BELL

NULLIFYING, for the time being at least, the project to organize a new vaudeville act to take advantage of available Loew and RKO time, a wire from his manager reached Wesley Eddy late yesterday advising him of an indefinite engagement as maaster of ceremonies at Shea's Buffalo Theater, in Buffalo, N. Y.

It was the wish of the Shea management to have Wesley take up his new duties immediately upon the expiration of his present fourteen-week tour of duty at Loew's Fox, but the request for a brief respite between the two engagements was granted and "Buffalo's adopted son," therefore, will not open in Buffalo until September 9. The versatile Mr. Eddy already holds a long run record at the Great Lakes Theater in Buffalo, as does Phil Lampkin, I believe, at Shea's Buffalo.

Following his latest local triumph, Wesley will leave Washington warmed by the staunch good wishes of a host of friends—as well as the August temperatures.

Although not discerned as yet among the multitude by these aging eyes, authentic report has it that Col. William Harryman Rapley, owner of the National Theater, has returned to town wearing a fine coat of ocean tan, acquired during a cruise to the Land of the Midnight Sun, and beaming in complacement contemplation of what the new theatrical season may have to offer at his E street temple of Thespis.

Pressed for a list of the season's bookings, Col. Rapley is reputed to to have murmured something about his "not knowing this early," the while he dropped pointed hints concerning the National's opening in mid-September with the premiere of a big musical comedy.

Also he confirmed the report of the merger of Erlanger-Shubert booking interests, whereby the National becomes the Capital's "first run house," as they say in the movies, which is tantamount to declaring that it will play only the "cream" of the year's legitimate road attractions.

It is a reasonable assumption that as soon as Mr. Stephen E. Cochran tunes up the office typewriter the dramatic desks will begin getting a steady barrage of cream puffs!

A card from Atlantic City brings word that Mr. and Mrs. Robert Long—"Bob" to you, and you, and you, who knew him so well during the years he was assistant manager of B. F. Keith's under Roland Robbins and manager of Tom Moore's Rialto—are at the shore celebrating their silver wedding anniversary, August 10, 1907—August 10, 1932. It happens that this column was at the shore at the same time they were honeymooning there and it doesn't seem any longer ago than 500 years yesterday! Still, it apparently adds up to 25! Didja ever!

Carter Barron, city manager of the Loew interests in the National Capital, hosted a gay party on the Club Michel Marine roof last night, in compliment to Betty Compson, the brilliant stage and screen star, who is personally lending luster to the "Star Night" revue, currently occupying the stage at Loew's Fox.

According to Variety, a combination stage-screen contract that will net him $220,000 in less than a year is being negotiated between Paramount-Publix and Harry Richman, the radio-recording-stage-screen singing comedian. Richman was last seen here in the Ziegfeld "Follies" last season. Just another victim of the depression!

It only goes to show. Precisely what it only goes to show I couldn't tell you. But "American Madness," one of the best audience pictures of the year, which is something less than cracking records at RKO-Keith's this week, is smashing them to smithereens out in Kansas City. To be sure, that does not mean a great deal—beyond the fact, that is, that Washington is virtually ignoring a corking entertainment for no other apparent reason than that it is the sufferer from flagrantly inept titling. Its original name of "Money" would have been better, for that is what it is all about—money and love, elements as inseparable as Lea & Perrin, Trade and Mark Smith, the coughdrop boys, or those two great inventors, Leonard & Frigidaire!

And with that thought I bid you, mesdames and messieurs, bong swat, as we say in the pure Castilian.

BUDGET OF TRAFFIC BUREAU UP $51,840

Added Sum Asked in 1934 Estimate to Improve Signal System.

Despite the general economy measures adhered to by the majority of District government departments the Department of Vehicles and Traffic has requested an increase of $51,840 over the current appropriations in its 1934 estimates, chiefly to enlarge the traffic signal system.

Asking a total of $243,220, the traffic department explains that $53,200 would be used "to improve and enlarge the traffic signal system, especially in the more congested section of the District." The plan provides for 28 single intersections to be coordinated, 10 traffic demand signals, the change of 30 signals from fixed timing to flexible, four sets of signals for fire houses to replace unsatisfactory sirens, and the change of six intersections from fixed time to demand control.

The public library system estimates for 1934 are $566,800 as against an appropriation of $422,200. This increase is largely accounted for by 21 new positions, costing an additional $27,060, and for $75,000 to begin construction of a Georgetown branch, the structure to cost $150,000. This item was included in the 1933 estimates, but eliminated on Capitol Hill.

The estimates also include an item of $20,000 for the preparation of plans to construct two additional wings to the central library on Mount Vernon square. The National Capital Park and Planning Commission has approved the use of park lands for the project. The cost of the two wings, which would double the capacity of the building, would be $600,000 and would be spread over four years.

Another $4,500 is asked for the preparation of plans for a library to serve the Petworth section at Kansas and Iowa avenues.

The playgrounds department's estimates for 1934 jump $71,140 to $266,960. Ten new positions are requested at a cost of $13,640, an increase of $47,000 is listed for athletic goods, kindergarten supplies and tools, and $40,000 is asked to keep the playgrounds open during the summer.

A new morgue, to cost $50,000, is asked by Coroner Joseph D. Rogers.

Store Robbed of $257 in Goods.

Merchandise valued at $257 and $60 in cash were stolen from a store at 2713 Nichols avenue southeast yesterday. Samuel Kravitz, proprietor of the establishment, reported the theft to police, naming a suspect.
